FISHERMEN'S LOBBY HOOKS FEW MEMBERS

Compensation Aim
Of Seafaring Men

Nearly 200 placard-waving, grimly determined B.C. fishermen, pressing their demands for coverage under the Workmen's Compensation Act, today descended on the Legislative Buildings in search of M.L.A.'s.

But members were scarce. They apparently were avoiding the lobbyists. Persistent fishermen managed to corner a few members in the corridors and tell them their troubles.

The fishermen, headed by Reginald Payne of Sidney, will meet the cabinet Tuesday morning to present arguments.

They are all members of the United Fishermen and Allied Workers' Union which will ask the cabinet to deal with the case at the present session.

At present, the act covers only fishermen aboard seiners, owned or chartered, by fish-packing firms, and fishermen on gillnetters who charter from companies.

The fishermen arrived Sunday night—in more than 40 boats which are now tied up at the Causeway. A large crowd gathered to meet the flotilla, and hundreds of motorists followed them along Oak Bay's waterfront to the Inner Harbor. There were boats from Vancouver, Ladner, Albion, Sunbury, Annville, Nanaimo and Sidney, all led by the "flagship" Cape Blanco. About 30 fishermen motored in from island points.

This morning, displaying large placards, the fishermen marched to Williams Hall, Broughton Street, for a business meeting and then to the Legislative Buildings.

Meanwhile a delegation of fish packers interviewed Attorney-General Gordon Wismer opposing the fishermen's request.

They promised arguments against the move at a brief meeting just before Wismer went into a meeting of the cabinet.

Seattle Fire Fatal To Two Elderly Women

SEATTLE, March 10 (AP)—Two elderly sisters lost their lives early today in a two-alarm fire here.

Mrs. F. S. Lang, 75, was fatally injured in a fall from a second-story window.

Her sister, Mrs. Vera Stratton, 73, was burned to death in a second-story bedroom of the residence.

Joe Patch, 47, another resident of the house, was rescued by firemen who brought him down a ladder.

Patch said the screams of Mrs. Lang, his aunt, awakened him about 1:15 a.m. He said he and Mrs. Lang ran to a window. Mrs. Lang tried to get out before firemen arrived, Patch said, and fell to her death.

United States Fears Hoof-And-Mouth Outbreak In $19,000,000,000 Industry

By OVID A. MARTIN

WASHINGTON, March 10 (AP)—The United States' $19,000,000,000 livestock industry stands in greater danger from the world's worst animal malady—foot-and-mouth disease—than at any time since 1914.

Agriculture department officials say it will be a minor miracle if the U.S. escapes an outbreak this year.

The disease is raging in Europe, many sections of Asia and in Venezuela and Colombia in South America.

Officials say that should it get out of control in Canada, supplies of meat, milk, leather, wool and medicinal products of animal origin might be reduced by 25 per cent. An epidemic, they say, could cost farmers upward of $500,000,000 a year.

Consumers would feel the effect in reduced supplies and higher prices.

The department is trying to keep the disease from invading the U.S. by maintaining a ban against importation of cattle, sheep, goats, other ruminants and swine from areas where the disease is known to exist.

The ban applies to all animals, both domesticated and wild, with the cloven foot.

In most European countries the disease has gained such a foothold that it has probably become a permanent infection.

Realizing that as long as the disease existed in Mexico, American herds were menaced, the U.S. government has been co-operating with the Mexican government in an effort to stamp out an outbreak that first occurred in 1947. The U.S. has spent $122,000,000 of its own funds on this campaign.

Gardiner said last night that the question of compensation for packinghouse workers for the time lost will be discussed at a meeting of cabinet members and union officials in Ottawa at a later date.

The union has asked that packinghouse workers thrown out of work be compensated as well as livestock raisers, who are to be reimbursed by the federal treasury for losses resulting from the disease.

The new outbreak was announced Saturday, the day after the slaughter of livestock from 22 farms and other infected premises had been completed—with the exception of one herd being kept alive for experimental purposes. In all, more than 1,100 cattle, sheep, swine and goats were shot in five slaughterings.

All three farms affected by the new outbreak are within a mile of the Regina city limits. One is north of the city and two are east.

Agriculture Minister Gardiner, who arrived in Regina to confer with Saskatchewan leaders on the outbreak, said Sunday he will ask the Manitoba government to lift its embargo on the passage of livestock through that province from the western ranges to eastern Canada.

The minister said in an interview he is convinced after two days of observation here that cattle can be moved through Manitoba without danger of spreading the outbreak of foot-and-mouth disease.

Saturday, Gardiner met with officers of the United Packinghouse Workers' Union (C.I.O.)

FIVE N.A.T.O. NATIONS RESTRICT RED TRAVEL

By The Canadian Press

Restrictions on travel by Communist diplomats were imposed today by several North Atlantic Treaty Organization countries. Others were expected to follow suit.

The action was either taken or pending in Canada, Britain, France, the Netherlands and the United States.

It is in retaliation for similar restrictions on movements of western diplomats and nationals in certain Soviet sphere countries. In each case, the announcements specify that if Communist countries take steps to reduce the restrictions, the western governments will do the same. (See story Page 3).

Batista Seizes Power In Cuba

Army-Backed Revolt Sees President
Prio Placed Under Guard; Two Killed

HAVANA, March 10 (AP)—Fulgencio Batista seized power in Cuba today in an army-backed revolt, three months ahead of scheduled presidential elections. President Carlos Prio Socarras fled from his palace, where two men were killed.

President Prio, accompanied by two army officers and possibly under arrest, left the presidential palace after announcing that Batista had seized control of Camp Columbia, the army's major military base.

Batista told a reporter: "I was obliged to make a revolution because I had news from the most reliable sources that President Prio, faced with defeat of his candidate in the June 1 elections, was planning a phony revolution for April 15."

Two army tanks and army trucks loaded with soldiers took over the presidential palace in the centre of Havana.

Former President Ramon Grau San Martin was arrested at his palatial home in Miramar, a Havana suburb, and taken to Camp Columbia. Batista, advised of this, sent out word: "Turn him loose." He was set free at once.

Apparently Prio was not in prison. Some reports said he was at La Chata, one of several luxurious estates he owns, on the outskirts of Havana. He was reported under guard, but Batista followers asserted he had been given "the fullest personal guarantees."

Batista said "Cuba will comply with all international obligations of the republic. It makes guarantees of safety to all."

Batista said his government was only a transitory one which will give way to fair and honest elections at the soonest possible date.

"All high officials of the military forces have been relieved of their posts," he said. "We count on enthusiastic support throughout the country of all forces from captains on down."

Gen. Francisco Tabernilla, one-time friend of Batista, was reported temporary chief of the army, with headquarters in La Cabana, but Batista was expected to take that job on a permanent basis.

Newspaper circles mentioned Carlos, Saladrugas, prime minister while Batista was president from 1940-44, as the probable successor to Prio as president.

Two major questions puzzled investigators:

Was the slayer an underworld figure, who killed the 24-year-old Schuster to avenge the arrest of Sutton?

Or was he a crank who hated informers and police in general? Some 150 detectives picked up scores of former convicts for questioning, and pushed through the city hunting clues.

The No. 1 man sought was a convict murderer and prison fugitive, Frederick J. (The Angel) Tenuto, an old pal of Sutton. They broke-out of Pennsylvania prison together in 1947.

Tenuto, already on the Federal Bureau of Investigation's 10-most-wanted list, was reported seen in New York, Friday by a bartender. Police discounted the report because the description didn't tally.

Schuster pointed out Sutton, the most-wanted man in the United States, to police just 19 days before the young clothing salesman was slain Saturday night.

Police Commissioner George P. Monaghan said today that "all 19,000" of the city's police "know what their No. 1 job is today—to trap the rats involved in this outrage."

Schuster got nothing—but death—for his tip leading to Sutton's arrest.

But today, the New York Journal American offered $10,000 and the Brooklyn Eagle and Daily News television station $1,000 each, for the apprehension of his murderer.

Six doors away from home, Schuster was hit by four 38-calibre bullets. People living nearby heard the shots and run.

Alberta Stock Gone; B.C. Herds On Way

By DON INGHAM

Higher beef prices are expected hourly in Victoria. Packers-report their stocks of Alberta beef exhausted, and B.C.-raised beef, bringing 33 cents a pound at stock sales, is coming on the consumer market.

A boost is already in effect in Vancouver, where the wholesale price for B.C. beef is 63 cents a pound.

There are reports that the same wholesale price will obtain in Victoria today, a marked increase over the 58 cents that has prevailed since the outbreak of foot-and-mouth disease in Saskatchewan.

Packers added that they are near the end of their supplies, and have little hope of replenishing them unless the provincial embargo on outside meat is lifted.

Agriculture Minister Harry Bowman said today the situation is "unchanged" regarding the province's ban on Alberta meat. A few stores already have received small shipments of the B.C. beef.

Packinghouse authorities said today their present supplies will last "up to next week." Fresh pork and lamb are almost nonexistent, although a little of the frozen meat is still available.

No 'Panic Buying' Reported

Retailers continue to report "no rush and no panic buying."

Some ascribe this to observation of Lent, which has reduced consumption slightly, and ungrounded fears on the part of some consumers that the meat is not safe.

"It's all government-inspected and as good as it always was," one store manager reported.

Buyers reported that the supply of marketable cattle in the interior is nearly exhausted, and will now have to wait for stockyard animals to be "finished" on dry feed lots before they are fit to kill.

As prices rose in British Columbia, they dropped sharply in Edmonton today.

Price cuts of from 10 to 12 cents per pound retail were reported, partly because of consumer fear of contracting foot-and-mouth disease. Agricultural officials have given assurances that this could not happen.

ON THE TIMES

By ART STOTT

My friend's face takes on a dreamy, speculative look when he contemplates his lawnmower. My friend weeds the soul of a poet and philosopher to a mechanical and mathematical mind and keeps the two balanced with a sense of humor.

He gazes at his grass cutter and explains that it is a very superior machine. It has one defect. The left wheel is broken. It was smashed in a scientific experiment by his son. The son, a robust boy, proved to his own satisfaction the results of a relatively irresistible force—his own drive behind the lawnmower—meeting a relatively immovable object—the cement curb which skirts the lawn. The machine intervened, and now what is left of the left wheel ploughs a furrow through the grass when he tries to use it. Obviously, a substitute has to be found for the left wheel. The problem lies in finding one.

My friend, by simple deduction, figured the easiest way to acquire a replacement would be to attend one of the local department store's unusual trade-in sales. The store was selling for 89 cents the old equipment turned in by purchasers of new lawnmowers. There were 40 of the old models on sale. Unfortunately there were a few hundred gardeners intent on acquiring inexpensive mowers—probably to salvage their left wheels. My friend was far down in the line-up. He arrived a bit late, and his closest approach to a bargain occurred when he passed a highly pleased old gentleman sedately moving the aisle carpet of the department with the machine he had just purchased.

Theme With Variations

Now it so happens that my friend's broken lawnmower has an eight-inch wheel. His canvas of second-hand stores in town has produced one wheel only from a discarded machine of the same make. And it has a 10-inch diameter.

My friend has a square lawn. If he buys and mounts the larger wheel, he can expect to spin around in circles when he uses the mower. It is this combination of circumstances which puts the dreamy look on his face.

From the earliest mathematical giants to the present, the problem of squaring the circle has remained unsolved. My friend now has the ingredients on which the proposition is based. He has the square—his lawn—and he has an instrument which describes a circle only—a lawnmower with one big and one little wheel.

Here is a challenge for a man with the soul of a philosopher and the mind of a mathematician.

They used to tell us in school that it was impossible to square the circle. But they also used to give us problems in geometry that looked to me pretty impossible, too. And then, in another class, they used to say that nothing is denied to well-directed effort. It all got a bit confusing.

I'm looking forward to my friend buying that big wheel and setting out to prove the impossible this summer. He's an ingenious guy. He fixed a clock for me once and now it makes two complete sweeps of the hour hand every 11 hours. That's a time-saver if there ever was one. I just have to pick up that clock; wind it, and I can lead twice the life of the normal individual, chronologically.

It May Not Work

Of course, there's a possibility that the eccentric lawnmower may not solve the problem on my friend's lawn. There's the off-chance that it will merely send him racing around in ever-decreasing circles until he's spinning like a dervish.

That may have its points, too. A whirling dervish in the neighborhood would be something of an asset. It would break the monotony of the days.

And there's another possibility, too. Maybe my friend, with his profound philosophical outlook on life and his keen appreciation of mathematics, will decide the big-and-little-wheeled lawnmower won't work on a square lawn. Maybe he won't bother cutting the grass. That will suit a lot of guys down our way just fine.

What we need in our locality are a few strong, independent masculine spirits who don't believe in mowing lawns and have the courage of their convictions. If my friend won't give us leadership, we'll settle for a campaign favoring natural grass—unmowed. Somebody else can go ahead and square the circle.

T-V SUSPENSE DRAMA

Viewers Watch Pilot Belly-Land Aircraft

VANDALIA, O., March 10—A courageous pilot belly-landed his crippled twin-engine plane safely today without knowing he had played the leading role in a real-life television suspense drama.

Carl Seimer, 32, circled the Dayton airport here for four hours with four others aboard as he tried to free a stuck right landing gear on his Lockheed Lodestar.

More than 2,000 persons who had hurried to the airport after hearing the plane was in trouble held their breath when Seimer plopped down his disabled craft just as it ran out of gas.

They cheered wildly when Seimer and his wife, Ruth, 26, of Cincinnati; W. A. Burns, president of the Trailmobile Corp., Cincinnati; co-pilot William Tolland, Mercer, Pa.; and Harry Eyer, Trailmobile executive of Milwaukee, Wis., stepped from the plane unhurt.

Dayton television station WHIO-TV had set up cameras at the scene to give thousands of its viewers an eyewitness account of the drama as it unfolded to its happy climax.

The plane, operated as a business plane by Burns' Corporation, left Chicago's Midway airport for Cincinnati at 6:15 Sunday night, and Seimer discovered over Lansing, Ill., that he had a faulty wheel.

He headed toward Dayton airport because he knew there was a Lockheed repair station here.

U.N. Will Not Be Threatened

MUNSAN, Korea, March 10 (AP)—Allied negotiators today warned the Communists that threats and intimidation will not force the United Nations' command to accept Red terms for a Korean armistice.

"You cannot dictate the terms of an armistice and you cannot hope to achieve any progress in these meetings by resorting to threats and unfounded accusations," said Rear-Admiral R. E. Libby.

He said U.N. negotiators did not propose to "sit and listen"

IN EARNEST

Threatens Suicide To Stop Flood

TIGNES, France, March 10 (Reuters)—A father of four children said today he will climb the church spire Saturday and drown himself if authorities go ahead with plans to flood this village out of existence to make way for a hydro project.

"When the water begins to rise," said farmer Andre Raymond, "I will send my wife, my four children and my beasts to safety. Then I will climb the spire. The moment the water reaches me I will throw myself in."

The homes of 493 persons in this Alpine Valley will be covered by 500 feet of water to provide an artificial lake for France's biggest power project. But 100 "villagers refuse to budge."

Power company officials offered villagers one and one-half times what it would cost them to build new houses elsewhere, plus the cost of moving and free transportation for themselves.

Children Die In Apt. Fire

BEDFORD, Que., March 10 (CP)—Three small children died today when a fire, caused by an explosion in an oil burner, ripped through the home of their parents.

Dead are Lise Smith, 2, her sister Pierrette, 4, and their brother Robert, 6. They were the children of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Smith of Bedford.

Police said Mrs. Smith ran for help after the explosion, but when she returned she was unable to get past the flames which blocked the doorway of the second-story flat.

A passing mortician turned in the alarm and the flames were quickly brought under control, but too late to save the three children, one a cripple and another blind.

Other tenants in the six-tenement house were unaware of the fire until firemen arrived.

any further to repeated accusations that the Allied delegation was "telling lies."

Libby emphasized later, however, that he did not threaten to break off the tightly-deadlocked negotiations. He said the next move is up to the Reds.

Truce negotiators debating supervision met only long enough to agree to meet again Tuesday. They adjourned after six minutes.

Libby's sharp warning followed two days of Communist attacks on Allied treatment of captured Communist soldiers. North Korean Maj.-Gen. Lee Sang Cho, in an obscurely-worded warning, first declared the issue might go "beyond the scope of the Korean question."

Sunday he warned that "serious incidents are in the making."

"We cannot envisage that your threats of the past two days have any other purposes than to attempt to intimidate us," said Libby. "You denied that you hold in Korea any more than 11,500 prisoners, whose names you gave us," the Admiral continued. "You denied that you ever held any of our captured personnel outside Korea... we have evidence which clearly convicts on both counts."

WHITENESS INCREASE

ROME, March 10 (Reuters).—The steady post-war climb in suicides in Italy is caused by poverty, illness, family troubles, the Italian statistics office has announced. There were 594 suicides between January and September last year in 25 cities with populations of more than 100,000. There were 564 in 1950.

Kenya in Africa has 20,000 Europeans, 100,000 Indians and about 5,000,000 African natives.

Libby also denied Red charges that U.N.-held prisoners are mistreated. "We have not attempted to influence the P.O.W.'s in our custody. We have no intention of resorting to any methods of political indoctrination and intimidation."

Lee countered by accusing the U.N. command of attempting to delay the negotiations "with the ridiculous slander that we shipped prisoners of war to the People's Republic of China."

Both groups of negotiators will meet again at 11 a.m. Tuesday (9 p.m. EST Monday).

Allied Planes Knock Down Seven Migs For Biggest Bag Since Late January

SEOUL, Korea, March 10 (AP)—Seven Communist jet fighters were blasted out of the North Korean skies today, the United States Fifth Air Force reported. The Reds were trying to break through a screen of U.S. Sabre jets protecting U.N. fighter-bombers.

Three other Migs were damaged, the air force reported.

It was the biggest bag since Jan. 25, when the Sabres shot down 10 Migs in four battles. U.N. losses, if any, are not reported until the week-end.

The Migs made three bold attempts to break through the Sabres and shoot up more than 100 fighter-bombers attacking a Communist rail line east of Suncheon in northwest Korea. Ground action flared at only scattered points. U.S. Eighth Army censors took the blanket of security off two more U.S. Divisions. The U.S. 40th (California National Guard) division is on the central front south of Kumsong. It came to Korea recently from occupation duty in Japan. The U.S. 25th Division with an attached Turkish brigade is dug in northwest of the Punchbowl on the eastern front.

Last week Eighth Army headquarters reported the First Marine Division on the eastern front and the 1st Commonwealth and U.S. Third Division on the western end of the battle line. The 43rd Division (Oklahoma National Guard), recently was shifted to the central front from occupation duty in Japan.

Allied patrols made contact with the Reds all along the thawing battle front Sunday, but no major clashes resulted.

VICTORY—For three days the Lankwitz fire department in Berlin has been outfoxed.

The boys were summoned Thursday to rescue a fox which had crawled up a pile of ruins to the top of a 40-foot chimney. Up went the big ladder and a fireman tried to grab the fox. Reynard scurried inside the chimney, where he braced his paws so he wouldn't fall.

The firemen returned next day with a stone suspended from a rope. They lowered the stone gently until the fox was forced to the bottom of the chimney. There two men waited with a big sack. The fox slipped past them and climbed back up on the chimney.

Saturday night the firemen tried again. The fox found a recess in the damaged chimney and crawled into it.

The firemen decided to let the fox stay there.

SABOTAGE—Communist saboteurs blew up a French army train in Cambodia last Friday, killing 85 persons and wounding 20, it was learned here today.

Well-informed sources said the blast took place Friday 30 miles northwest of Phnompenh, capital of the southern Indo-China state of Cambodia.

Saboteurs had loosened ties on the lines and planted explosives near the approach to a bridge. Fifteen cars were overturned by the explosion.

HAILED—The Moscow press today hailed the new Russian budget today as the "Budget of Peace" and contrasted it with the "war budgets of Britain and the United States."

The budget, biggest in the Soviet's history, was approved Saturday night by the Supreme Soviet (Parliament). The legislators made almost no change in the appropriation line-up submitted by Finance Minister Arseny G. Zverev.

Total expenditures of 477,000,000 rubles—about $119,500,000—of the official rate—were planned. Of this amount 114,000,000 rubles is earmarked for the armed forces, the largest peace-time Soviet defense budget in history.

DEMOLISHED—An R.C.A.F. Vampire jet aircraft, of the 401 City of Westminster Squadron, was demolished early Sunday while attempting to make an emergency landing two miles from Larnaca, Que, but the pilot walked away with only minor injuries.

The pilot, FO. D. Leblanc, of Verdun, Que., was taken to hospital in Montreal for treatment.

LOST—Sixty seamen were feared lost in gales which swept the North Sea during the week-end.

The body of one of the seamen, apparently frozen to death, was found in a lifeboat.

Search was abandoned early today in the storm-tossed waters off the Orkney Islands for 17 sailors from the 447-ton German trawler Thor which capsized in heavy seas.

One survivor of the Thor, first mate Willi Sunkymann, was picked up, unconscious and half-frozen, by the German trawler Fladengrund.

DIED—In Vancouver J. P. D. (Phil) Malkin, wartime munitions director and later director of War Assets Corporation, died Saturday in hospital at the age of 74.

He was a director of the Malkin tea and coffee firm headed by his brother, W. H. Malkin. He had been ill for some time.

Mr. Malkin was born in Burslem, Staffordshire, Eng., and came to Canada before the turn of the century.

In 1940 he was named director-general of purchases of the munitions department, a post he held until he resigned four years later to become war assets director.

He was a past president of the Vancouver Board of Trade.

SURPRISED—In Saskatoon, President J. L. Phelps of the Saskatchewan Farmers' Union said today he was surprised and puzzled by the Canadian Federation of Agriculture's request for a domestic price of $2 a bushel for western wheat.

Phelps said the western conference of the C.F.A. had endorsed a $2.25 for this wheat.

"Why has the national group taken a stand at variance with the west," he asked.

The three prairie farm unions believed that a parity price for domestic wheat should be arrived at by a definite pattern similar to the method used for fixing the cost-of-living index.

SECRET—How neutral is Russia in the Korean war?

A hitherto-secret report in Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway's headquarters in Tokyo asserts:

"The main source of supply for present Chinese Communist forces . . . in Korea . . . is from Soviet-furnished material."

Although the United Nations command never has announced the capture of a Russian soldier, practically all equipment in use by the North Korean army and the Chinese Communist forces is Russian-made.

So, too, is the swift jet interceptor plane, the Mig-15, which patrols northwest Korea from Manchurian bases.

A staff officer at Gen. Ridgway's headquarters today made available the report, containing a list of captured guns, vehicles and other war machinery which it says the Russians have turned over to the North Korean and Chinese Communist armies.

MASSACRE—In Montreal a United Nations labor leader said Sunday the Soviet government is "engaged in a wholesale pogrom of Jews in all countries under Communist dictatorship."

Benjamin Tabachinsky of New York, national director of the Jewish labor committee, spoke at a memorial meeting sponsored by the trade unions in tribute to Henryk Erlich and Victor Alter, Jewish labor leaders in Poland, murdered in the Soviet Union 10 years ago.

Tabachinsky told the gathering "an organized pogrom is now on in the Soviet Union and in all the countries behind the Iron Curtain."

"This campaign of terror is not only aimed at Jews but against all freedom-loving people who think for themselves, act for themselves and be free."

Detective Fights For Life As Police Hunt Toronto Gunmen

Police Stage Manhunt For Cop Killers Around-The-Clock Shifts In Search For Two Heavily-Armed Desperados

TORONTO, March 10 (CP)—Toronto police today continued their hunt for Leonard Jackson as persistent reports from Montreal said the fugitive is headed back to Toronto and familiar ground.

Meanwhile, in hospital, sergeant of detectives Edmund Tong has for the time being won the fight of his life against death. With 45-calibre bullets still in his chest and mid-section, surgeons Sunday reported the officer 100 per cent better.

Early today hospital attendants said Sgt. Tong is still on the critical list but that he is continuing to show slight improvement.

They added: "Sgt. Tong was very near death last Friday night and again on Saturday. His pain and torment were extreme. Only through fortitude and sheer grit—his determination to live—was he able to survive those hours."

MURDER CHARGE

In serious condition in a Montreal hospital is Steve Suchan, who was shot three times in a police ambush Friday night in a swank Cote de Neiges apartment. Suchan is charged with the attempted murder of Sgt. Tong and sergeant of detectives Roy Perry.

The two officers were shot down in cold blood in Toronto's West End Thursday.

Squads of Toronto detectives are still working on a round-the-clock basis in their hunt for Jackson, also charged with the attempted murder of Tong and Perry.

Police believe Jackson and Suchan were responsible for several bank holdups in the Toronto area in the last few months. Their information also leads them to believe Edwin Alonzo Boyd, who escaped from Toronto's Don Jail last winter, is master-minding the holdups.

36-Bed Hospital Can Be Loaded Into Plane

OMAHA, March 10 (AP).—Strategic air command planners have developed a complete 36-bed hospital that can be packed in less than 500 cubic feet. The hospital is complete with operating room and X-ray equipment. The whole thing weighs only 10,000 pounds. Four men can load it into a C-54 transport plane in a few hours.

Local police captured a man identified as Luther Wheeler, 24, of Jacksonville, Fla., about four hours after the shooting. Wheeler "admitted he did the shooting, but said they (the officers) 'shot at me first,'" according to Saliba.

The gunman named Fred and Edna Starling, also of Jacksonville, as his accomplices. He described Starling as being about 24 and his wife around 35 and pregnant.

Authorities said the couple was believed heading for Florida in a maroon Buick sedan.

"We don't have much patience with cop-killers here," warned Saliba, "and we're going to get those two."

Movement Of Russians In Canada Is Curtailed

OTTAWA, March 10 (CP)—Canada is going to restrict the movements of Russian diplomats and is expected to pen them into a small area around Ottawa.

The action will be taken as part of joint Atlantic pact retaliation for increased restrictions on movements of western diplomats in Russia, it was learned today.

The Russian embassy is being informed formally that members of its staff are not to go outside a certain area around Ottawa without permission from the external affairs department.

The restrictions will be the first Canada has slapped on the Russians with the exception of the policy of not inviting them to military exhibitions and displays along with other foreign attaches.

The Netherlands and France were reported to have applied restrictions also.

Vote Backs Adenauer's Rearmament Program

BONN, Germany, March 10 (AP)—Konrad Adenauer, West German chancellor, had a majority endorsement of his rearmament program today from its first test at the polls. He was expected to press full steam ahead to put German soldiers into the projected European army.

The vote came in the new southwest state's first election Sunday in which members of Adenauer's pro-rearmament government coalition bested the anti-army Social Democrats of Dr. Kurt Schumacher almost two to one.

Complete unofficial returns showed the voters in the state formed by the merger of Baden,

Amateurs To Film Solarium Activity

Plans have been made by the Victoria Amateur Movie Club to produce a 30-minute color film, depicting "work" at the Queen Alexandra Solarium for Crippled Children.

The film, which will be shot during the early months of summer, will be used to publicize the work of the Solarium. A film on the same subject made 19 years ago by Douglas Flin-toff is credited with having raised more than $35,000 for the Mill Bay hospital.

The new film will show recent additions to hospital facilities, including latest equipment for treatment purposes.

Practically all 50 members of the movie club will do some work on the project. Frank Artlett is club president.

The Big Question

THE POLITICAL CHAOS OF FRANCE is serious enough in itself since it weakens one of the chief nations of the free world's alliance. It is, perhaps, still more serious as indicating the hard test ahead of all the North Atlantic partners.

At Lisbon not long ago the existing French government agreed to pay the heavy new costs of joint defense. That bill could be properly paid only through increased taxes. When the legislature was asked to levy the taxes it voted the government out.

Whether any French government can secure the essential revenues, whether the reeling finances of France can be brought under control after years of inflationary deficits, remains to be seen.

But this is not a problem unique to France. In greater or lesser degree it is shared by every member of the Alliance, even the United States, which refuses to collect as much money in taxes as it is spending. Every member must meet the higher bills fixed by the new and expanded defense program of Lisbon.

In America this will be relatively easy for people who are living better than ever and whose living standard will hardly be touched, much less threatened. In Europe and in Britain, however, cost of the greater armaments must be paid by still harder austerity.

That is the price which, so far, France has refused to pay. If other nations also refuse then the Lisbon blueprint of 50 military divisions this year will be destroyed at the beginning. The defense will be made of paper only.

On the other hand, if the nations attempt to pay the bill by creating phony money to cover their revenue deficits—by the familiar method of crude inflation—then the economic foundations of military strength will be further undermined.

Europe thus faces a cruel dilemma which we in America have so far escaped. Before we blame the politicians of France we should remember how difficult a choice they face. In the end, however, though America will certainly have to continue large-scale aid to its allies—Europe will have to save itself by living within its means.

The temptation is to live better by reducing the burden of armaments but that is to risk the danger of national death at the hands of an enemy who always lives hard. In Europe, is America, ready to pay the price of living in Freedom? That is the question at the head of the free world's agenda in 1952.

How About A Spring Cleaning?

A COMMUNIST-LED UNION continues in full control of labor at one of Canada's most important industrial establishments—the Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company plant at Trail, B.C., which produces 10 per cent of the world's supply of lead and zinc. Heavy water for United States atomic research is also made at Trail. The implications, both for Canada's peacetime needs and war potential, are obvious.

That the threat is not an idle one may be seen in the disclosure, as reported by the Financial Post, that the company recently had to discharge a temporary employee, who, it was found, had been sent to Trail "for a purpose other than his job at the plant." The Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers' Union, led by Mr. Harvey Murphy, a noted Communist, for the past seven years, organized a campaign to have the man reinstated.

The company retaliated with an assertion of its right to protect itself against Communist Party members or followers who "continue to use their influence in furthering policies and aims dictated by a foreign government." That is one incident in a much wider picture. The Mine-Mill group represents labor not only at Trail but at mining operations in Kimberley. It holds contracts with a score of other concerns in this province. It represents labor in negotiations with the International Nickel Company at Copper Cliff and Port Colborne. One of the world's largest producers of that metal.

The union controls these important jurisdictions despite the fact that it has been expelled by both the C.I.O. and the C.C.L., repudiated by the national affiliates.

Puzzled Socialist

MR. RANDOLPH HARDING, C.C.F. member of the legislature for Kaslo-Slocan, seems to be a man of good sense but he can hardly be called a good socialist.

A few days ago Mr. Harding publicly welcomed the arrival of the Celgar Development Company to the Arrow Lakes region. This is a big company, a private enterprise, by socialist definition a capitalist evil and, by the Regina Manifesto, one of those hideous monsters which must be "eradicated."

Yet Mr. Harding welcomes it. Not only welcomes it but praises it and looks forward with satisfaction to the resulting prosperity in Kaslo-Slocan.

When he has to choose between the Regina Manifesto and a sound local industry Mr. Harding has no hesitation. He is to be commended for preferring industry to theory.

Capital City Grant

VICTORIA'S CASE FOR A CAPITAL grant from the provincial government has lost nothing by repetition over the years. How forcefully it should be pressed at the time, when all governments are being constantly enjoined to practise economy, may raise some questions.

It is a fact, nevertheless, that Victoria has valid arguments to support its request. Here are located government tax exempt properties which, in private hands, would yield up to $326,000 a year were they subject to the conventional levies. Their exemption from those charges does not free the city of the necessity of providing services to them.

Capt. D. J. Proudfoot has shown a clear appreciation of those facts in the Legislature. His stand supports that taken earlier by the City Council under Ald. Percy B. Scurrah's leadership.

Victoria, of course, appreciates the value of the payrolls that come from the government offices—just as do Esquimalt, Saanich and Oak Bay, which are not required to meet service obligations in any comparable degree.

On the basis of the $150,000 grant figure suggested by the city, it is clear that no full compensation is sought for the total lost in taxes. The sum would be a capital city grant, justified in the minds of those requesting it on the grounds that the capital has special responsibilities in the way of beautification and provision of particular amenities because it is the seat of provincial government.

There is merit, too, in the plan to use some money, were it granted, on some specific project.

Should the council regard any particular undertaking as a proper means of spending any grant that may be given by the government, then, surely, it might be listed as a project to be started when work is needed locally to provide employment for our citizens. Any such plan can scarcely be given high priority in competition with the national defense effort.

Pursued Beyond The Grave

LAST YEAR THE DEMOCRATIC world paid final tributes to the great Argentinian newspaper La Prensa. The proud tradition of that leader in the journalism of the world had been stamped down by Col. Juan Peron.

Now the tradition has been exhumed ghastly for desecration by La Prensa's enemies. They cannot, it appears, resist their impulse to sully the reputation of a newspaper which was too fine for the forces which destroyed it.

The desecration takes the form of a pamphlet advertising a book in which an effort is made to challenge La Prensa's stature as a newspaper. The identity of the would-be assassins employed in this scurrilous job is not revealed. The net result of their efforts is to remind the democracies of the former position the newspaper enjoyed and to stamp the detractors for what they are—unwholesome sycophants of the dictatorial Peron regime.

Chips Off The Old Brock

By DAVID BROCK

I HAVE lived on this street for exactly ten years. Ten years ago it was a dear little country lane, only one block long. Within that short block were two little hills and one very steep big hill that came winding down to my gate. No traffic, in any normal sense of that word, came along our lane. But whenever a car or truck did turn up, it came very slowly; what with the hills, and the sharp bend on the big hill, and the narrowness of the lane, and all the trees overhead, it was foolish to drive fast.

Brock scuring your vision, it was foolish to drive fast.

IN TEN years, the bend on the big hill has been straightened, so that cars now whiz down it, regardless of another bend at the foot. Cars and trucks in great numbers. Cars, because while our lane doesn't go anywhere much, our district has become fashionable, and people drive out from town to see what is for sale. Trucks, because all the normal people on the street seem to be ordering goods from town every few minutes. Most of the trees have been cut down. Four hideous new houses have been built.

You will have seen at least two of these in magazines. A fifth house has been transformed from a nice old wreck into a ghastly Moorish palace. Only two children have been hit by cars so far, and only a few dogs, but these low figures won't last.

IN OTHER words, our little lane has become just another street. If you saw the snapshots of ten years ago, you wouldn't believe them. I hardly believe them myself. And in ten years, I have changed (because of other men's changes) from a tolerated stranger to the second-oldest inhabitant. And, I should say, the second-crossed.

Well, stood crossly at my gate this morning, looking at this ruined lane for the thousandth time while I waited for the postman. And among my letters was one from a friend who lives in a quiet suburb of a huge city. He envies me my waterfront land, as well he may. But he also envies my little lane, which he once knew, and this makes me groan. Little to envy there, except that the air is still fresh enough. In his letter he told me somewhat apologetically that while I had no doubt been basking on the beach at lunchtime and cutting wood there afterwards, he had been playing street-hockey with his children and their friends... playing it on the paved level, straight, deserted road in front of his house. He thought I'd laugh at him and his city. Kitilano, in Vancouver, of fact, I envied him a little, on behalf of my children and myself.

IF YOU'RE going to have a plain, blasted suburban street anyhow, then it might as well be one you can play games on. My own street is narrow, bumpy, rough-surfaced, bent, hilly, and dangerous. Since it is not longer worth looking at, it should be good for playing on, but it's hopeless even for that. I thought with the keenest pleasure of all the games used to play on the streets of Kitilano, in Vancouver, when I was a boy. Everything from Gaining Grounds (a punting game, with a rubber ball) to bicycle polo. We even thought the street was wide enough for baseball, though it didn't seem quite that way to Mr. H. R. MacMillan, through whose best window went our best Senior League ball... he has probably forgotten this now, more than 30 years later, but we haven't.

WE MUST have played twenty or thirty games on that street. It acted as a clubhouse between games, too. And at this club we learnt to get along with twenty or thirty different boys (and girls) of widely differing characters... we were on the northeastern fringe of the Respectable Part of Kitilano, and met a few clubmen who took the word club a bit too literally. Though one band of fast runners invaded our territory once, and used iron pipe on my brothers instead of clubs.

THERE were still plenty of vacant lots in those days, but while we occasionally holed up in hollow stumps there, to be used as fortresses for wars or lounges to smoke in, we mostly preferred the street. On the street we were very much in the public eye... the eyes of perhaps ten mothers at any one time. This kept us out of mischief, but we didn't care. We'd have shuddered to think the games were good for us, but I'm afraid they were. All the same, I wish kids played as many games now as we did then, and could enjoy them as much.

HOW WE would have laughed at the idea of a Youth Centre or any other Community Effort to keep us off the streets! The more we stayed off the streets, the more risk we ran of getting into trouble through idleness, privacy, and so on. I suggest to you that it is a great pity we can't get more kids ONTO the street, instead of OFF it. But maybe we no longer understand the mood for enjoying a good street. Gosh, maybe we don't even have any good streets any more.

My city friend has one, though, and, as I say, I envy him. I wouldn't give up my beach permanently. But I'd give up two whole perfect days on it for one good rough-house game of street-hockey. If I can't have my country lane back, I want a real street, please. And don't tell me to go and find a park... we're just not talking the same language... I'm a street Arab (possibly an Emir), not a Persian gardener.

Ottawa Citizen

Miss Barbara Ward, formerly assistant editor of The Economist and the author of books on public affairs, is convinced by her study of Communism that the West must exert itself if it is to match the visions and the plans that have enabled the Soviet Union to offer a workable alternative. In her most recent volume, "Policy for the West," she insists that free peoples must meet a crusading faith with a better one.

As Nature Fashioned It

Glacier Valley Tweedsmuir Park.

MUST THE FOREST DROWN?

Tragedy At Tweedsmuir

By a Conservationist

ON THE Nechako River today a great mud dam is rising. Soon it will turn back the waters of that rich necklace of lakes that decorate Tweedsmuir Park. As the water spreads and climbs it will invade regions where trees grow now.

If those trees are not removed, they will drown and regions of skeleton trunks may stretch in ugly channels where nature breathes, beautiful and alive today.

This is the prospect which disturbed conservationists at the annual B.C. Natural Resources Conference recently urged the government to remove all timber from lands that will be flooded in the Alcan hydro development. The conference ended without definite action being taken.

MADE CLEAR Those interested in the conservation of recreational facilities did, however, make their point clear before the matter was dropped.

Failure to clear the margins of lakes and waterways, they said, would reduce the beauty of the area, create a hazard to navigation and an impediment to fishing, would eliminate landing sites necessary for safe harbor, camping and picnicking, and would destroy recreational values.

Sponsors of the resolution, noting that no adequate provision had been made in the contract with the Aluminum Company of Canada for such clearing, urged the government to assume responsibility for the job and to proceed with it without delay.

Supporting that argument were reports of action taken in the United States, where power companies are always required to clear marginal lands before flooding.

None questions the difficulties that would be encountered in the project, which, according to Dr. I. McTaggart Cowan, would involve 175 square miles of existing timber land. At the same time, while Tweedsmuir Park is used by few people today, the importance of the area for recreational use in the future, and its wilderness appeal to potential tourists is clear.

Inundation of a large area will greatly alter but it need not ruin the park terrain. If, however, the vast forest of timber thus drowned is allowed to stand dead, ugly and dangerous, much of it above water level, the park may be greatly damaged, if not ruined entirely and British Columbia will have lost a future asset of incalculable value. Yet there is nothing included in the government's contract with the aluminum company to prevent this result. Alcan has agreed to spend a quarter of a million dollars only in cleaning up trails and road ends but this, of course, will not log even a fraction of this timber to be flooded and drowned. So far as this contract is concerned it would appear that Tweedsmuir Park, the most valuable in British Columbia, can be converted into an eyecore along the margins of the lakes which are its chief value and attraction.

Surprisingly enough, the Legislature does not seem to be worried about this. No serious argument has been directed at the clauses in the contract affecting trees. Yet in an aluminum project which will eventually cost something like half a billion dollars it would appear only sensible business to preserve the park at a tiny fraction of that cost.

While neither Alcan nor the government are worrying about the inundation of timber and the spollation of the lake area, the dam on the Nechako River is rising, the water level will soon begin to rise also. Then it will be too late to clear away the marginal timber.

HIGH PRICE

Alcan is providing a huge and desirable industry in British Columbia but unless action is taken soon to clear the area to be flooded we may pay a high price for this development in the loss, or at least the great damage of our provincial estate. If those fears are groundless, if the contract does not mean what it seems to mean, we hope the government will so advise the Legislature and the people who own the park.

In the Legislature last spring, Lands and Forests Minister E. T. Kenney gave the assurance that timber would be cleared from the affected regions before flooding. Does that assurance still stand? If it does, the minister should tell the public how the clearing can be done before the water rises.

He might also explain why, when a public outcry is raised against overcutting in certain forest regions of this province, British Columbia faces the prospect of destroying such an area of trees without prospect of salvage.

As Our Readers See It

SCHOOLS, OLD AND NEW

It would seem that Dr. Hume, Ontario educationist, has found the answer to the ever-recurring problem—"what is wrong with our schools?" "Present-day schools," says Dr. Hume, "are betraying the youth of the country" by failing to instill in them thoughtfulness, consideration for others, good manners and a love of hard work. The implication of course is that the school of the Victorian era did all of these things.

What are the facts of the matter? Dr. Hume should reread his Dickens, or review G. B. Shaw's indictment of "the institutions of torture." It might give him a truer perspective to recall the days when children, who lacked the courage to play truant "except like maddened unwillingly to school." In addressing the youth of the Empire in 1924, Stanley Baldwin states that "forty years ago all the King's horses and all the King's men could not have drawn him back into the company of school masters."

Yes, schools of the Victorian era, not excepting those of Ontario, were criticized even more severely than our schools of today. They were authoritarian, inflexible, class-discriminating and examination-ridden. They disregarded individual needs. They ignored mental as well as physical health. They cared little what a pupil studied so long as he dinked it sufficiently. They devoted the time to "disciplining the mind." They defined teaching as giving instruction—purveying information, copying words into note books.

This is not to imply that we have reached perfection or that we ever will. There is still plenty to criticize. What individual or institution is without sin? It may be that when we achieve Utopia we shall not find life so exhilarating.

URGES CRUSADE

There is something tragically pathetic in the newspaper headline, "Churchill is disappointed in the lack of aid from the U.S."

Britain is in dire straits. Through two devastating wars she has stood as a bulwark to save the world, and in so doing, has weakened her power and prestige. In the most vulnerable position of the globe she faces as bravely as ever the foe of democracy. If she should fall it would mean the end of civilization as we know it, and a state of universal chaos and destruction.

Her salvation and that of the world lies in the hands of each and every member of the Commonwealth.

There is no force today, civil or military, greater than the power of the press. If all of the newspapers in this vast Commonwealth would combine in a crusade to aid Britain, we should march straight to the establishment of an ethical and spiritual standard more uplifting and enduring than we have ever seen or history has ever chronicled.

Britain has never lowered her ideals for the betterment of humanity, for integrity, for loyalty to Christian principles. Fearlessly she has stood again and again, in the face of seemingly overwhelming odds to preserve freedom for the world, and now has come her crucial test.

I vision all of the newspapers in the Commonwealth sponsoring a campaign to re-establish the Mother Country in her former status as leader of the Christian world. We can accomplish this if every one of us, men, women, children, contributes our quota. There need be no organization behind it, except the publicity of the press, and the acceptance of the press of donations, none to be too small nor too large, and all of them voluntary. It would be a gigantic undertaking, a crusade to sweep the world, and a test of our loyalty which, in time of universal trouble, has never been stronger.

Canada, young, rich, virile, is the country to start the crusade to save Britain whose salvation will mean that of tottering Europe and ultimately that of all nations.

It might be known as the "Memorial Crusade" in honor of our late King who died just as surely in the service of his country as any brave soldier on the battlefield.

Ups And Downs

By BRIAN TOBIN

"It's surprising," said the Elevator Man, "how a little spot of yellow color can be worked all through a pound of margarine and change it so thoroughly. It not only changes it from white to yellow, it changes it from food for man to food for thought, from a lump of grease into a political problem.

Tobin

The funny thing they tell me butter is often pale and must be colored yellow to look like butter, while margarine is often naturally yellow and under the present law must be bleached white to look like margarine. The color line has always been one of humanity's favorite fighting lines. It's typical that we worry more about how a thing looks than what it is. And it's a tragic thing that while beauty is only skin deep, ugliness seems to go a little deeper. Maybe mankind ought to be sent here with a little packet of beauty to be mixed with it on arrival, until the law allows the job to be done properly in bulk. Lower man!

"But the bleaching process," said the Elevator Man, "isn't confined to coloring. It works in other ways too. One little lump of yeast raises a whole batch of dough. One happy man can set a whole roomful of sad ones laughing. One sad man can depress a roomful of merry-makers. It works both ways. We might ask ourselves now and then what color we are adding to society's pound of margarine. Are we making our environment more attractive or worse? Going up!"

"Sometimes," said the Elevator Man, "there's some doubt about just what your net effect is. Like when the new curate asked one of his congregation, 'What did you think of the sermon on Sunday, Mrs. Smith?' And the good lady answered, 'Very fine indeed, sir. Very instructive. We really didn't know what sin was until you came here.'"

Anthem's Origin

From John O'London's Weekly

It appears that the original of "God save the King" was a Catholic anthem written in the last year of the reign of King James II when William of Orange was hovering before his final invasion.

The first line then ran "God save great James our King" and it remained, with some slight alteration, the loyal song during the days of his exile in France. In this context and, after James' death, the reference was transferred to his son, the Old Pretender (or, if you prefer it, James III), who was not victorious in 1715.

Send him, victorious, Soon to reign over us was both good grammar and good sense.

Though the Young Pretender's name was Charles, the song remained, and when he reached Derby in 1745, he was so nearly victorious—and had every prospect of being so within a few days—that the government decided on a counter-stroke and annexed the anthem to refer to "Great George our King," changing the "soon" to "long," but not altering the "send" to "keep" or some equally appropriate word.

Live Ammunition Found Under German Football Field Turf

HEILBRONN, Southwest Germany, March 10 (Reuters).—A football fan had to bet 1,000 bottles of wine before anyone would investigate his claim that the local football field was filled with high explosives.

At the end of the Second World War tons of bombs and ammunition were dumped into a huge bomb crater and covered with earth. People forgot about the ammunition. The site became a football field.

Authorities refused to believe the fan when he told them what was under the players' feet. Only after he made his bet did anyone think it worthwhile to dig up the field.

It took bomb-disposal squads several days to cart away all the live ammunition.

WEATHER SYNOPSIS

VICTORIA'S SUNSHINE RECORD TO DATE, 1952—196.2 HOURS

SYNOPSIS: The Pacific storm which Sunday dropped over an inch of rain at many south B.C. points and up to four inches of snow at many interior stations is now drifting slowly off into the northwestern states. Gradual improvement in weather is looked for as the system moves away from the province.

Another active storm now crossing the Aleutians will be causing considerable cloudiness over the western half of the province Tuesday, but precipitation will reach only the more northwestern sections.

Temperatures will be a little colder tonight in most sections as skies clear slowly.

REGIONAL FORECASTS VALID UNTIL MIDNIGHT TUESDAY

VICTORIA: A few clouds tonight and Sunday, clearing over Tuesday evening. Little change in temperature. Winds southwest 20 this afternoon, otherwise light. Low tonight and high Tuesday, 31 and 48.

WEST COAST: Variable cloudiness tonight. Sunny Tuesday, clearing over in afternoon. Winds southwest 15, occasionally reaching 25 today, becoming light overnight. Low tonight and high Tuesday at Estevan Point, 32 and 48.

VANCOUVER AND GEORGIA STRAIT: A few clouds tonight and Tuesday, clearing over Tuesday evening. A little colder tonight. Winds light tonight and Tuesday. Low tonight and high Tuesday at Vancouver Airport, Abbotsford and Nanaimo, 32 and 48.

Rioting In South Africa

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa, March 10 (Reuters).—European police today clashed with thousands of rioting Africans in the native section of town in a fresh outburst of a fight which began Sunday night.

Sub-machine guns at the ready, the police moved against throngs of Africans pelting rocks and wielding clubs in a faction dispute within the settlement.

The casualty list mounted hourly. At noon 12 Africans were listed dead and hundreds wounded.

Mobile police squads were rushed from one trouble centre to another as homes were pillaged and looted and terror-stricken inhabitants were attacked.

The battle, mainly with sticks and stones, is between Basuto tribesmen and the recently formed African "civilian guards," composed mainly of Zulus.

Tribesmen included a gangster organization known as the "Russian Gang."

NATION'S BUSINESS BOOMS, SAYS HOWE

Trade Minister Criticizes Those Countries Who Buy Canadian Products As A Convenience

MONTREAL, March 10 (BUP).—Trade Minister C. D. Howe said today the nation's business was booming but criticized countries that seek Canadian products only when they cannot get them elsewhere.

Howe pledged Canada to help the free world overcome raw materials shortages. But he added, in a speech to the Montreal Canadian Club:

"We would like to see some evidence of (other countries) acceptance of Canada as a reliable long-term source of supply, rather than as a residual supplier to be used only during periods of shortages."

Generally, he said, this country's trade record was "remarkably good" and "prospects, in my opinion, are favorable."

Last year, Canada's imports exceeded its exports by $122,000,000 out of a combined total of more than $8,000,000,000. Howe said that was a "very small deficit in relation to the trade involved."

Howe said this country primarily was an exporter of foodstuffs and primary goods, and he said that the world still faces a shortage of strategic raw materials as a result of the rearmament program.

"Increased production is the only effective solution," he said.

BABY'S SCREAM BETRAYS THIEF

DALLAS, Tex., March 10 (AP).—Grocer N. J. Shaw suspected shoplifting Saturday when a woman tried to leave with a screaming baby. He called police, who probed the infant's blanket. The baby stopped howling when police removed a frozen rabbit.

Decorate Buckingham Palace For Occupancy By Elizabeth

LONDON, March 10 (CP).—Nine rooms in Buckingham Palace are being repaired and painted under the direction of the Queen.

The decoration is being done in preparation for the Queen and her family to move from their present home, Clarence House. Court circles say they don't know when the move will be made.

The throne room, where the Queen will receive visiting royalty, and the green drawing room, one of the most ornate in the ancient 690-room palace, are being done over in two shades of ivory.

Plumbers are installing steam heating in both rooms.

Intent New Threat For 'Horse Of Year' Honor

ARCADIA, Calif., March 10 (AP).—Intent, who was just another race horse until a month or so ago, set his sights today on the title of 1952's horse of the year. A lot of horses will kick up a lot of dust before the decision comes down, but as of today Intent has (A) a record amount of money to his credit; (B) a much better leg on the mythical trophy than Hill Prince or Counter, to name a couple of leading challengers.

His owner, Harry Isaacs, a Baltimore textile man, has banked $181,075 on Intent's accomplishments at the current Santa Anita meeting, a record topping Great Circle's $152,574 here last year.

To do it, Intent won three rich Santa Anita fixtures, although he was disqualified and put second in the $100,000 handicap for humping Mike in the stretch. That cost Isaacs another $34,000. But in the Maturity, Intent returned $112,000.

The meeting brought the Kentucky bred's total earnings to $192,650. He didn't race as a 2-year-old and picked up only a little over $11,000 as a 3-year-old.

He was the big noise not only of the meeting but of getaway day, Saturday, when he ran down Be Fleet and Bryan G. to take the $33,200 first prize in the $50,000 San Juan Capistrano at a mile and three-quarters.

Huskies Tie Series

Washington Huskies Saturday night squared the Pacific Coast Conference basketball series with U.C.L.A. Bruins with a 53-50 triumph. Third and deciding game will be played tonight at Los Angeles. Bob Houbregs, Washington's All-American centre, was high scorer with 20 points.

Here's The Puzzle Of The Week

There is a mysterious, disembodied face floating around Athletic Park these days. The face appeared briefly in the soccer game between Victoria United and Vancouver City. Vancouver City's Joe Durante, standing by post, was shocked to see, right at his belt-line, this face as it settled momentarily over the shoulder of Vancouver goalie Joe Travis who sprawled on the ground to make a save. At right Vancouver's Joe Jordan registers delight while at left Alan Sawyer and Stan Bob are too busy wrestling to care. In background at left is Don McGee of United. Victoria won 2-1.

Travis Keeps Score Down In United Win

COMMERCIAL PLAYOFF SERIES RESUME TONIGHT

If they didn't use up all their scoring punch last week, Navy can put the clamp on one final berth of the Commercial Hockey League playoffs tonight when they meet Seven-Ups at 9 in Memorial Arena.

Last week, the sailors went on a scoring orgy to take a lopsided 13-4 win, following up their 6-5 overtime victory in the first game of the series. A victory tonight will put the sailors in the finals against the winner of the Army-Merchants series.

It's still anyone's series as far as Merchants and Army are concerned. Merchants took the first game by a decisive score and seemed well on their way to making it two straight last week when the soldiers exploded with a shattering roar. Trailing 4-0, Army scored five unanswered goals in the final period to take a 5-4 victory and square the series at a game apiece. Game time is 7:30.

Burke Shatters Record In Fourth Straight Win

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 10 (AP)—Jack Burke kept golf's hottest winning streak alive Sunday by winning the $10,000 St. Petersburg Open tournament with a record-shattering 266.

The handsome young star from Houston, Tex., stroked the final round in 66 to win by eight strokes over big Al Bessellink of Chicago.

The $2,000 first prize was the fourth in a row for Burke, who had swept the Texas Open, Houston Open and Baton Rouge Open in succession, and it increased his bankroll, the biggest of the winter golf tour, to $8,720.

Burke admitted he was shooting for the tournament record of 268 established last winter by Jim Ferrier, Canadian Open champion from San Francisco. "I felt that if I played it too safe I might get in trouble," Burke said.

Actually, he was six strokes better than Ferrier, because the Californian made the record on St. Petersburg's Pasadena course here par is 71. Par for the tougher, 6,232-yard Lakewood layout is 36-36-72.

Burke put together rounds of 66, 69, 65 and 66. Bessellink shot a 68 today for 274 to capture the second prize of $1,400.

Cary Middlecoff of Memphis, Tenn., fired a par 72 and wound up in a third-place tie with Tommy Bolt of Durham, N.C., and Skee Riegel of Tulsa, Okla., at 278.

B.C. Puck Series Tied

British Columbia's two senior amateur hockey semifinals are tied at two games apiece.

Nanaimo Clippers bumped Kelowna Packers, 4-1, Saturday night in one best-of-five series, while Nelson Maple Leafs bounced back to punish Trail Smoke Eaters, 9-3.

Clippers and Packers play again tonight at Kelowna and Maple Leafs and Smoke Eaters will go back to Trail for their third game, also set for tonight.

"I felt that if I played it too safe I might get in trouble," Burke said.

COLWOOD PAIR COPS BUTTONS

Laurie Kerr and Porky Andrews did the next to impossible Sunday when they came through with a 3 and 2 victory at Colwood Club to wrest the city senior golf buttons from Bob Fleming and Johnny Merriman. It was the defenders' first defeat in 11 starts.

Winners had a best ball of 66, losers 69. Kerr and Andrews were three up at the turn.

Joe Travis returned to the scene of his former glories Saturday afternoon at Athletic Park, but even Joe, in one of his most spectacular displays couldn't prevent Victoria United from scoring a 2-1 Coast Soccer League victory.

Bulwark of a weak Vancouver City side, Travis kept City in the game through the scoreless first half with a great display and, though beaten by Wallace Milligan and Bernie Clarkson after the interval, was still the best man on the field.

United held a wide edge in play throughout, the City forward line proving inept and seldom dangerous. The lone marker was a gift from United goalkeeper Bill McAllister, who, in attempting to clear from his goal area, threw the ball right to the feet of John Bowers.

Bowers nonchalantly booted the sphere into the empty net. Milligan was the first to give Travis cause for alarm early in the game, but Travis saved on the hard drive as he was to do often through the first 45 minutes. Cedric Robb, Den McGee, Milligan and Bernie Clarkson all had good chances only to be thwarted by the ex-United netminder.

Puck Race Tightens As Cats Win, Stamps Lose

Cotnoir Blanks Rockets; Royals Near League Title

It's 64 down with six to go for Victoria, Vancouver and Calgary in the Pacific Coast Hockey League sixth-place playoff scramble with Vancouver in front by a nose.

A protested game separates the Canucks from the Stampeders of Calgary and the clawing Cougars from Victoria who today are tied for seventh.

Official Pacific Coast League standings will show Vancouver with only 51 points. The reason is that the Canucks won a protest in a recent 6-6 tie game with Tacoma Rockets and the game will be resumed, if necessary, at the nine-minute mark of the third period with the Canucks leading 6-5. The protest was over a goal disallowed by referee Dick Davis which was allowed in the edict handed down by league president Al Leader.

A victory in this game, which is to be concluded March 21, will give the Canucks an extra point over the 52 they have been unofficially credited with lately.

With a league schedule to be only a memory a fortnight from now, it's each club for itself, with the devil take the hindmost.

Calgary Stampeders appear to have the inside track with four games at home to two away, while the Cougars and Canucks can cut each other's throats, first at Vancouver Tuesday night and then back in Victoria next Tuesday.

A sweep of this important two-game series by either club would definitely eliminate the other.

Canucks have the edge on the season, having defeated the Cougars eight times this year. But the Cougars are running hot and will throw a four-game win streak on the block at the Vancouver Forum.

SECOND SHUTOUT
Cougars' latest conquest came Saturday night at Tacoma, where they blanked the Rockets, 2-0, behind Jerry Cotnoir's second shutout of the year. It was their second victory in three years at Tacoma.

Meanwhile Edmonton Flyers were aiding the Victoria cause by tripping Calgary, 5-3 at Calgary. The Canucks were idle over the weekend.

IRONMEN MOVE UP
In other league action Seattle moved to within one point of fourth-place Edmonton by handily defeating the Quakers, their third defeat of their present western trip Sunday, 4-3.

On Saturday, New Westminster Royals all but wrapped up the league championship with a 5-2 victory over the runner-up Quakers.

Reports from Tacoma indicate that Cotnoir was superb while the Cougars were full value for their triumph. Eddie Dorohoy notched the first career goal at 16:44 of the first period with Bob Frampton and Jack McIntyre assisting. Les Hickey scored the second on a play with Doug Anderson at 7:55 of the second period.

A possible third goal was argued to no avail in the final minute of the game when Bob Frampton had the puck knocked off his stick by a thrown stick when heading for the empty Tacoma net, goalie Doug Stevenson having been removed for an extra attacker.

Referee Bill Knott didn't see the play although the linesman reported to have sided with the Cougar point of view.

Another Island basketball championship came to Victoria Saturday night when Eagleslettes captured the junior girls' crown. Defeating Alberni, 38-33, at Alberni, Eagleslettes took the total-point series, 72-65, having won the series opener, 34-23.

Eagleslettes meet the mainland winners in a sudden-death game for the provincial championship at Vancouver Friday.

Pat Sinclair and Carlo Copas were top point-getters with 11 and 10, respectively. Eagleslettes led, 18-8, at the half.

TOTEMS WIN
In an exhibition preliminary, Victoria High School Totems nipped Alberni High School, 42-40, in what could have been a preview of the forthcoming inter-high school basketball tourney at Vic High this Friday and Saturday.

Len Anderson's bucket with 30 seconds remaining gave Totems their two-point edge. Jim Jahraus topped scorers with 16 points.

WINGS, LEAFS SPLIT
Bruins Again Catch Rangers

Detroit Red Wings, firmly ensconced as National Hockey League champions, gave a queer exhibition of inconsistency during the week-end, losing 6-3 at Toronto and then wallowing the Toronto Maple Leafs 6-1 Sunday at Detroit.

A near-record crowd of 15,626 jammed Detroit Olympia for the Sunday feature.

Toronto picked up two points on its week-end showing, but still lost ground to second-place Montreal Canadiens, who rallied for a 4-4 tie with the tail-end Chicago Black Hawks at home Saturday and came through with a 2-0 victory Sunday against the Rangers in New York.

In the week-end's only other tussle, Boston Bruins, playing at home, downed Chicago 4-2 Sunday to move back into a fourth-place deadlock with New York Rangers.

Gordie Howe scored two goals, his 40th and 41st of the season, tops in the league. He also picked up two assists to boost his looping leading point total to 75.

In picking up a 4-4 tie with Chicago Saturday night, the Canadiens were forced to wipe out a three-goal lead and help Elmer Lach celebrate his night when fans and teammates presented him with more than $10,000 worth of gifts.

At New York, Dick Gamble and Bert Olmstead scored in Montreal's 2-0 Sunday victory over the Rangers. Gamble tallied at 18:22 of the second period and Olmstead scored in the final minute of play when the bluelines took Emile Francis from the nets in an effort to produce a tie with an extra forward.

Woody Dumart, Ed Sandford, Ed Kryzhanovskiy and Dave Creighton scored the Bruins' Sunday goals with Gus Bodnar getting both Chicago markers.

West's Whip Heaneys To Enter Soccer Cup Final

Heaneys and Victoria West couldn't scrape up a single goal between them in two hours of soccer when they first met in the Jackson Cup semifinal but the second time Wests had no trouble.

The first game produced a scoreless draw for the full regulation time plus two overtime periods, necessitating a replay Sunday. This time Wests scored with a will, taking a 6-1 victory to enter the cup final.

A slippery pitch at lower Beacon Hill Park, from intermittent showers, slowed play down considerably in the first half but the second half was wide open.

SECOND-HALF ASSAULT

Wests took a slim 1-0 lead at the half but blew the game apart in the second half when they scored five goals with a single reply from Heaneys who were unable to get untracked in the face of a heavy West offensive.

Roy Speller was a diminutive ball of fire for Wests, checking like a tiger and potting two goals to lead the attack.

Wests will now have a rest until the other finalist is decided. Contenders are Civil Service and Esquimalt. They meet in their semifinal Saturday at Athletic Park. Date of the cup final has been tentatively set for March 23.

College Scores Smashing Victory Over University

Victoria College completed what will probably be its most successful activity of the year over the week-end when over 100 students invaded the University of British Columbia.

Lady Luck smiled on the boisterous college throng and they upset U.B.C. with three victories out of a possible five.

The first and most decisive College win came when the badminton squad won nine out of 14 matches despite a tricky floor.

UNBEATEN SHUTTLES

School champions George Forbes and Barbara Rose won their singles and doubles and then teamed up to take their mixed game to remain the only undefeated players.

The other members of the successful team were Frances Appleton, Bernice Jennings, Dave Metchem, Yvonne Mount, Ron Birch, Geoff Conway and Jim Pritchard.

RUGGERS LOSE

U.B.C. salvaged a measure of prestige with a convincing 9-0 shutout over the College rugby squad.

Saturday night the schedule was completed with two basketball games in the new memorial gymnasium.

U.B.C. took first blood by defeating the hometown girls, 23-11, after compiling a 10-6 half-time lead.

As the two men's basketball teams lined up the schools were tied for total wins. Two minutes before regulation time ended they were still in this stalemate by virtue of a 32-32 tie.

NEWCASTLE UNITED MEETS BLACKBURN IN CUP SEMIS

LONDON, March 10 (Reuters)—Newcastle United, favored to retain the English Football Association Cup, today by-passed their strongest rival, Arsenal, in the draw for the semifinals.

Newcastle will meet Blackburn Rovers, the only second-division team left. Arsenal, 1950 winners, will play their old London rivals, Chelsea.

The games will be played March 29. Newcastle and Blackburn will meet at Hillsborough, Sheffield Wednesday's ground, and Arsenal and Chelsea at Tottenham Hotspur's ground, London.

The Arsenal-Chelsea match follows many stirring struggles between the two clubs in recent years. In 1947 they met three times in the third round before Chelsea eventually won. Two seasons ago they clashed in the semifinal and two games, both on Tottenham's ground, were necessary to decide the issue in favor of Arsenal, who went on to win the cup.

ADDY TAKES MEN'S CROWN

Nancy Craig Lone City Table Tennis Champion

One British Columbia table tennis championship came to Victoria Saturday night when Nancy Craig retained her women's singles crown with a smashing three-set triumph over Enid Smith of New Westminster, 21-16, 21-15, 21-14.

Brothers Ed and Art Ngai failed in their joint bid for the men's singles title when they bowed in turn to champion Gerald Addy of Vancouver.

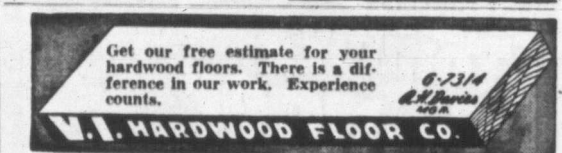

Ed was beaten in a five-set thriller, 21-19, 15-21, 17-21, 21-19, 21-13, while Art lost in the finals, 21-19, 20-21, 21-14, 21-15. Art eliminated Art Barrar of Vancouver in the semifinal round, 21-16, 21-16, 21-16.

Mrs. Craig defeated Vancouver's Dot Barran in the women's semis, 21-19, 21-15, 21-14.

Sam Houston and Fred Ward retained their men's doubles crown with a 21-19, 21-18, 23-21 victory over Harold Keenlyside and Lloyd Reyklin.

Then Wes Maultsail, easily the star of the game, took over and netted a long howitzer and a free throw to give College the lead it never relinquished, winning 35-33.

Local Boxers Gritty Losers

By DENNY BOYD

VANCOUVER—Victoria hasn't any provincial Golden Glove champions this year but one thing the city does have is a bunch of the grittiest game-cocks whoever laced on gloves.

The best boxers of the local area went to the B.C. tournament at Vancouver last week-end with high aspirations in the face of unknown competition. The competition was tough, too tough, but not one local boy lost his fight because he was afraid to get in there and mix it, no matter how badly outclassed he was.

The only Victoria-ites to gain the finals were Bert Wilkinson and Navy's Romeo Brun.

Wilkinson T.K.O.'d Jim Owen Friday night and fought twice Saturday.

In the semifinal he ran into Jim Blaney of Richmond and gained the decision for his aggressiveness and hard left.

Wilkinson was tired in the final with Steve Phare of Haney, and in a cautious bout dropped the decision.

Brun, 178 pounds of impassive silence, put on the best showing for the locals. With only one previous fight to his record, Brun showed in his decision over Neil Black of R.C.A.F. in the semifinal that he could punch like any heavyweight.

Then, when he met powerful Andrew Marshall in the finals, Brun delighted the crowd by switching to scientific boxing, hooking and jabbing like a pro.

Brun had the lead in points going into the last round but he ran into a solid left hook that draped him on the ropes and seconds later Marshall had his third knockout victory.

Lack of conditioning hurt the other Victoria boys who appeared Saturday night. Bobby Thompson, 112 pounds, got off to a good start but was exhausted at the final bell and lost by decision to Campbell Palmer, who was named runner-up to the Golden Boy.

Charlie Simpson of Navy took some heavy punishment around the eyes from Ben Vander Voord of the R.C.A.F. and the fight was stopped at 2:55 of the second round.

Dave Martin, Navy's happy-go-lucky heavyweight, ran into one of the hardest punches of the meet, a straight left by Glen Carlson of Elks. Martin was out cold at 1:20 of the first.

A long-geared punting machine from Kimberley, Jack Butula, was a popular winner of the Golden Boy trophy and a trunkful of prizes.

Art And Anatomy Walked Hand In Hand!

Parallel development of anatomy as a science and growth of Renaissance figure painting will go under the lecturer's scrutiny at a public meeting. Dr. S. M. Friedman, head of the department of anatomy at U.B.C., will discuss "Anatomy and Art" at University Extension Association meeting at 8.15 at Victoria College - Normal School auditorium.

Desire of Renaissance painters to express mood through medium of the human figure led to their thorough exploitation of anatomic facts, according to Dr. Friedman.

How the 15th century anatomists and artists benefited each other's craft, as a result will be discussed.

Current role of anatomy in modern art will also be touched upon by Dr. Friedman.

As on their first appearance in Victoria, the four famous Belgians will be sponsored by Victoria Arts Centre.

Music of Mozart, Beethoven and Ravel will be played by Henri Temianka, Gustave Rosseels, Charles Foldart and Adolphe Frezin, on violins once owned by Nicolo Paganini, one of the world's greatest violin virtuosos.

Tickets are available at the Arts Centre, Marionette Library and T. Eaton Co. box office.

Oak Bay Leads Program Of Training For Crisis

Oak Bay civilians swung into Canada's new "disaster nursing" course today as that municipality leads the way in Greater Victoria in a new department of Red Cross service.

The classes are an extension of the regular home nursing instruction that has been a Red Cross practise for years.

Enrollment has been divided into five sections. The first class will be conducted Monday afternoon at the Oak Bay Well Baby Clinic.

Others will be held in those quarters Tuesday afternoon and evening and Wednesday afternoon. The fifth will be conducted in the Oak Bay Fire Hall, Thursday evening. Each class will last approximately an hour and one-half and will be conducted by volunteer registered nurses.

"When we have finished," said Mrs. Sidney G. Cave, chairman of the Red Cross First Aid and Home Nursing service, "we hope to have one member of every household trained for emergency work."

A few registrations may still be taken for Tuesday and Wednesday afternoon groups, as well as for the Thursday evening class.

"It is our conviction," Mrs. Cave explained, "that prompt attention—the kind of attention that could be rendered if every family had a member trained in such work—can save life and can eliminate serious complications in cases of mishaps that are not critical. While the special disaster nursing training is being undertaken in conjunction with and at the request of civilian defense authorities, it is still of value as a peacetime service."

Those who are given training and prove their competency will be awarded Red Cross certificates. No examinations will be held.

The regular course, as distinct from disaster preparations, will cover such matters as treatment of the bedridden ill, minor sickness in the home, emergencies such as fractures, burns, scalds and recognition of symptoms relating to illness. Simple treatments only are explained, and instruction is provided in general home hygiene.

The Oak Bay courses are expected to be followed shortly by similar arrangements in the city and other municipalities.

And they called it—
AVALON ROAD
BEHIND THE SCENES
with Jim Nesbitt

Avalon Road, running into Beacon Hill Park, was named for Avalon Villa, the fine big wooden home of Peter John Leach.

Leach, a professional English soldier, came to B.C. with the Royal Engineers in 1914 via the sailing vessel Thames City, and when they were disbanded in 1915 stayed on here as civil engineer.

He traveled extensively throughout B.C. as city engineer for Victoria, and in the 1920's went to B.C. to lay out the new townsite. He also surveyed Leachtown, in the Sooke area, which was named after him.

Mrs. Leach was a pioneer as well, having come to Victoria in 1882. She and Leach were married in 1913 and a few years later built Avalon Villa, facing the park.

Mr. Leach died in the 30's, and his wife 10 years later.

Deep-Water Atom Blast Probable In New Tests

By ELTON C. FAY

WASHINGTON, March 10 (AP)—A deep-water explosion of an atomic bomb appears probable at the Marshall Islands nuclear-weapons proving ground.

The Atomic Energy Commission has tried out explosions under a variety of conditions—mid-air burst, surface explosion, underground and in shallow water. It has amassed a vast amount of data on what such blasts will do to buildings, underground structures, weapons, ships anchored in harbor and to men.

But until it runs a test first planned and then abandoned in 1946 it will not know how effective would be a deep-water blast convoy on the high seas.

The assumption is that at least some target ships will be used in the test, although instruments to record shock, pressure, radiation and other effects would provide valuable data alone.

Without tapping its reserve fleet of useful vessels, the United States navy has on hand a large number of ships which could be used.

The "Baker" test in Bikini Lagoon in 1946 produced formidable results: Two battleships, a big carrier, three submarines and some small craft were sunk in a single blast.

But scientists believe a great deal of destructive force was lost because of the shallow depth of the lagoon.

HERO LOATHES PUBLICITY; TO RESUME BATTLE

LONDON, March 10 (Reuters)—Pte. William Speakman who recently won Britain's highest award for gallantry—the Victoria Cross—is going back to active service in Korea at his own request because he is tired of being pestered and worried by hero-worshippers. The soldier who held 600 Chinese troops at bay said he has been embarrassed by the blaze of publicity surrounding him.

Capt. Nedden, Pacific Coast Skipper, Dies

VANCOUVER, March 10 (CP) — Capt. Harry E. Neddén, 76, who went to sea at the age of 15 as an apprentice aboard a sailing vessel, and who commanded the luxury cruise ship Corsair until his retirement in 1950, died in hospital Sunday after a brief illness.

Capt. Neddén retired from Canadian National Steamships in 1941 after serving the company on various ships in its Pacific Coast service for 31 years.

During his career, Capt. Neddén and Queen in 1939, Capt. Neddén was on the bridge of the steamship Prince Robert when they crossed on the vessel from Victoria to Vancouver.

He became commander of the Canadian Coast Guard fleet in 1932, and at the time of his retirement was in charge of the steamship Prince George.

Capt. Neddén returned to active duty in 1948 as master of the luxury cruise ship Corsair, operating the cruise line in the B.C., Alaska and California-Mexico cruises.

Willing To 'Go On Alone Against Tories—Bevan

RHYMNEY, Wales, March 10 (AP)—Labor left-winger Amos Bevan said Sunday night that his rebels are ready to "go on alone" if party moderates do not agree to battle "Toryism" harder.

The hefty ex-miner — whose followers withheld support from former Prime Minister James Callaghan's Labor leadership Wednesday night during a no-confidence vote in the House of Commons aimed at the Conservatives—addressed his constituents here.

"I shall try and convince my (moderate) colleagues that they should take a vigorous part in that struggle (against Toryism)," he said, "so that we can go on together, but if we cannot go on together, we shall go on alone."

Bevan and 56 supporters failed to uphold Labor party leadership Wednesday night and Prime Minister Churchill's Conservative government was able to beat a vote of confidence.

group were first fully advanced last spring in a Tribune pamphlet.

HARSH TREATMENT

Entitled "One Way Only," received surprisingly harsh treatment.

In recent weeks as the rearmament issue came increasingly to the fore, the Manchester Guardian and The Times warned leaders of the Labor party opposition against the dangers of bowing to the Bevan group—as it has often been expressed, "of allowing the tail to wag the dog."

The revelation of the Sunday show, however, whether the Labor split is prominent or whether a compromise can be arranged. Meanwhile the weekly Observer said Sunday in a comment that crystallizes the anti-Bevan case:

"...an individual who would start his life on a wager that there will be no war in, say, the next five years, would clearly be down the non-confidence motion by a whacking majority of 95. The motion was aimed at Churchill's handling of the rearmament program.

Churchill's opponents are down for the Bevanites and the Labor moderates. The 295 Labor M.P.'s will meet Tuesday to consider the crisis. A permanent Labor party split would insure a long rule for the Conservatives.

Bevan reiterated here his previous claim that the action of his followers Wednesday night did not disunite the Labor party. He said:

"All we did was to refuse to vote for an amendment that supported the armament program."

a reckless fool. Bevan asks Britain as a nation to act like such an individual."

TOPICS OF THE TIMES

The local branch of the Canadian Red Cross is holding a blood clinic at the Britannia Branch of the Canadian Legion on Blanshard Tuesday and Wednesday. Hours for visiting the clinic are from 1:30 to 4:30 in the afternoon and from 7 to 9:30 in the evening. The Red Cross announced that to make the clinic a success, over 350 donors are needed.

Dana Howard, temporary acting secretary to Robert G. Jackson at Desert Springs, Calif., has written Mayor Claude Harrison of a special Norwegian seaweed product which, he says, prevents hoof-and-mouth disease.

Confirmation of the resignation of Terence P. O'Grady, as assistant city solicitor, was received in a letter at City Hall today.

The resignation, reported in The Times, Saturday, will be effective April 30. In his letter O'Grady thanked the council and his colleagues for "two happy years" in the civic service.

Word is being awaited here on the result of a national movie contest, now being conducted in Ottawa by the National Film Board.

The Victoria Amateur Movie Club has entered a color picture, dealing with work in a silver-smith's shop. The picture is called "Making of a Georgian Coffee Pot." The film was produced locally, and was given high praise by those who attended its premiere.

Modern efforts to reform young people who have run foul of the law will be discussed by Dr. E. G. N. Richmond, outstanding authority on that type of work, at the annual meeting of the John Howard Society in Spencer House Tuesday evening.

The meeting, open to the public, will start at 8 p.m. Richmond is director of the Child Guidance Clinic of Vancouver.

Harold Gray, 325 Cook, wrote the mayor and council today protesting any change in the Weekly Half Holiday Act as it now applies in Victoria, "unless it benefits 3,000 retail clerks, independent merchants and the public at large."

Improvement was reported at Jubilee Hospital today in the condition of Darlene Corbett, three-years-old, dangerously injured in a Feb. 29 traffic accident on Burnside Road.

The little girl suffered a brain injury and fractured legs.

The Victoria Short Wave Club will hold a meeting at 8 Wednesday evening, at 2500 Foul Bay Road.

Police reported today no incident will be held in the death of a negro found dead from gas poisoning in a downtown hotel room Sunday morning.

Police were called by a person who came to visit the dead man and smelled gas coming from the room.

Important business will be discussed at the Workmen's Compensation Board Amputees group meeting in the reading room of the Pro Patria Branch of the Canadian Legion at 8, Wednesday night.

Plans for mutual assistance in the event of peace or wartime disaster will be discussed March 14 and 15 in Victoria at an international civil defense meeting.

Officials from Alaska, Washington State, United States government and British Columbia will gather in the Douglas Building, Government Street, for the provincial-state meeting. Provincial Secretary W. T. Straith will head the B.C. group.

Sub-committees will meet on March 13 and report to a general meeting March 14.

A $265 prepaid fine list presented in police court today included five motorists who had paid $250 for parking meter violations.

The five paid the increased fine because they had not met the $1 charge within the 48-hour deadline after being "ticketed."

PUBLIC WORKS PREVIEW PLAN

Public Works Minister E. T. Kenney will outline plans for public works projects in British Columbia next year in the Legislature Tuesday afternoon.

He will be followed by Arthur Ash (Govt., Saanich), and Randolph Harding (C.C.F., Kaslo-Slocan).

Continuing the budget debate tonight at 8:30 will be (Rupert) Hagen (C.C.F., Grand Forks-Greenwood) and Jack McRae (Govt., Prince Rupert).

Old Salt Sheds Tear For Scattering Of Close-Knit Crew Who Served In Sioux

By MONTE ROBERTS, Times Marine Reporter

The Old Salt tells us the writers missed the main point in the story of H.M.C.S. Sioux coming home.

He says we were so busy telling of joyous anticipation and shore-side reunions, we overlooked the undercurrent of regret.

That's what he said—regret. The Old Salt claims he could feel it as he prowled through Sioux on the run into port after the meet with Cedarwood.

"No officer or man would say so, of course," said the Old Salt, "but I know many a one would admit to himself a sense of impending loss."

"Why, even the steel heart of the ship herself could feel it. She knew that a good crew, well-knit by action, welded by reasoned discipline, gripping at each other with that friendly asperity born of understanding, was about to be broken up."

"I'll grant you," said the Old Salt, "that thoughts of home and family and shore-side fun came first. But I doubt there was a man jack on board without a sneaking regret that he would not be sailing again, with the whole gang, complete."

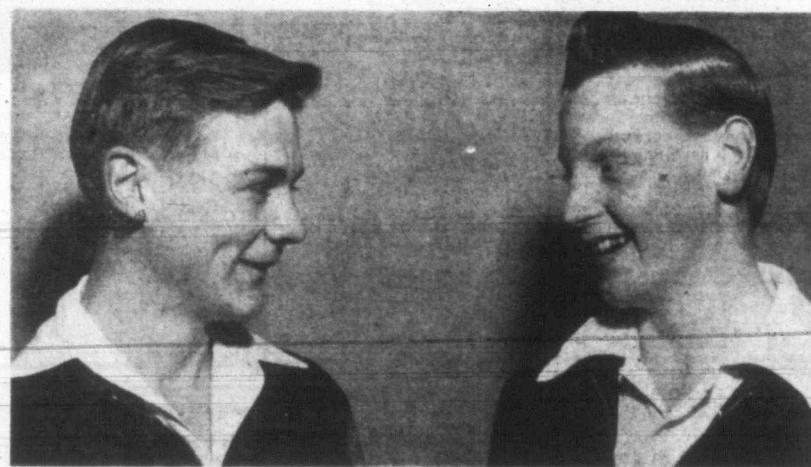

"As for me," said the Old Salt, "I know we're a training navy with more men than ships—but it's a pity to see such a fine crew in such a wonderful ship disperse to the four corners of the navy command."

If the Old Salt felt sad, you'd never know it, to have watched him on the run out, swapping lies with Lt. Cmdr. Jack Wolfenden in Cedarwood. He bristled with pride when the captain invited him to write the first message to Sioux when the two ships made wireless contact. (All he could think of was a stereotyped welcome home plus a very weak wise-crack).

Fog Not Fear Held Youngsters On Mountain's Face Overnight

Night On The Mountain Big Joke For Youths

Today was the opening of National Smile Week in Canada but that wasn't the reason for the grins on the faces of 16-year-olds Norman Amos, left, and David Tague. They were members of a trio of city youths who spent Sunday night on Mount Finlayson after fog left them stranded on climb down rugged Goldstream face of Highlands district mountain. "It was a lot of fun," laughed young Tague. "Our folks worrying about us had a worse time than we did."

By ROY THORSEN

"Heck, we weren't lost or worried—in fact, we enjoyed it."

That was the story told today by David Tague, 2824 Dysart, and Norman Amos, 235 Ontario, two of the three "teen-age Victoria boys" who spent Sunday night high on the fog-shrouded face of Mount Finlayson.

Third member of the party was 14-year-old James Turner, 1221 Rockland.

From Sunday night to 8:30 this morning the trio was the object of a wide search over the rugged Goldstream country. Taking part were anxious fathers, South Vancouver Island Emergency Service personnel and the R.C.M.P.

"We weren't even partly lost. We just played it careful by deciding to 'sit it out' for the night on our high perch," said re-haired David.

Thanks to the outdoor experience of Tague and Amos—the lads spent the night in comparative comfort.

KEPT FIRES BLAZING

They holed up in a "bit of a cave" and kept warm by keeping two fires well fed during the night.

The boys hitch-hiked to Goldstream early Sunday morning and started their climb up the almost sheer face of the mountain and made camp.

At 5 they set out on the descent to the valley floor. But a dense fog rolled in to cut visibility to a few feet.

"Well, under such conditions we decided the wise thing to do was stay put and make ourselves as comfortable as possible," said Amos.

ON NARROW LEDGES

"The downward trail was on ledges less than a foot wide in spots and we felt that if we kept going sooner or later one of us would get hurt," added Tague.

"Wise boys," was the comment of Rangers.

When they considered it safe in daylight the boys came down, unaware that their overnight stay had caused much anxiety.

"It took us about four hours to make the climb, only about 45 minutes to come down—but we slid a good part of the way," the pair grinned.

The Mounties called out the Ranger crew at first light today to search for the "lost" team.

Fathers of Turner and Amos searched last night and resumed the mountainside hunt this morning.

CALLLED FATHERS BACK

The fathers, on their way up the mountain, missed the boys on their trip down. Police sirens and rifle shots told the fathers the sons had been found.

According to his pal, it was a first "night out" in the wilderness for young Turner.

School students Amos and Turner are Victoria Times' carriers. Tague works for the E. and N.

Ranger search party was composed of Les Wilby, Ranger president Russ Lyle, Cedric Jones with the ambulance and Jack Betts with the radio car. Jack King and Gordon Sward directed the search program.

HEAVY CONVENTION BOOKINGS FOR CITY

Advance Reservations At Empress Hotel For 9,000 Visitors; Estimate Spending of $900,000

By R. E. PORTER

Some people just naturally come to Victoria, and others have to find an excuse.

And the peculiarly North American institution of the convention will provide at least 38 excuses for men and women from all over the continent, before the end of the year.

According to advance reservations made at the Empress Hotel, nearly 9,000 conventioners will make their headquarters in Victoria, for periods ranging from two to four days.

Conventions, in addition to providing a change of climate and a chance to exchange nicknames, are primarily intended for the exchange of information. A persistent conventioner who attended all sessions of all conventions in the Empress would probably finish with a compressed education equivalent to a combination of B.A. and a graduate course in business administration.

This year, he could learn how to keep a bee and light a kitchen, cut down a tree and develop aluminum, fit a pair of glasses, and persuade the public to part with dollars for worthy causes.

As the average conventioner presents at least 10 discussions, our persistent conventioner would absorb some 380 speeches, and drowse through goodness knows how many questions-from-the-floor.

From Victoria's viewpoint, of course, it's nice to know that the average conventioner parts with about $100 during his stay here—so the convention at the Empress, will likely put something close to $900,000 in circulation here.

Ask, and it shall be given unto you; seek, and ye shall find; knock, and it shall be opened unto you.—Matt. 7.7.

FOUR-YEAR-OLD SOUNDS ALARM, RIVALS SIRENS

There's a little boy of four who can howl as loudly as a fire siren. He's proved it.

He stood on the seat of his tricycle to ring in a false alarm Sunday evening. A trike-riding friend was with him, at the corner of Rockland and Cook, at the time.

Headquarters equipment responded with satisfactory shrieks and clamor.

So did the small alarmist, when discovered.

PRICE DROP RUMORED

Tobacco Trade 'Hunch' May Trim Stock Here

A "hunch" of the tobacco trade that federal taxes on cigarettes will be reduced in the next budget may result in a shortage here. Wholesalers and retailers feel that if a reduction is made, thus lowering the retail price, it will be effective immediately upon announcement.

They do not want to be caught

Lack Of Workers In Banana Belt Causing Shortage

Chances are that Victoria and other Canadian centres will face a banana shortage during the next three months.

This was the word today from Dick Lipsey, manager of A. P. Slade's wholesale fruit distributors here.

Lipsey said there is a serious labor shortage in Central America, B.C.'s main source of supply. "Unless labor problems in the tropics can be settled soon, there will be a large reduction in banana shipments here," Lipsey said.

First supply of winesap apples from the Okanagan is scheduled to arrive in Victoria this week. This will mean the end of shipments of Washington winesaps.

A few local farms sent in the season's first lot of cucumbers today, while from Prince Edward Island came the first shipment of eastern turnips.

Sailors Suspected Of Wallet 'Snatch'

Frances Carroll, Langford, told city police she believed that two sailors who "bumped" him stole his wallet containing $23.

Carroll said that shortly after he had been jolted by the sailors in C.A.C. Gardens, Fisgard Street, he found his wallet missing.

Cmdr. Paul D. Taylor, captain of H.M.C.S. Sioux, consults his "celestial navigator," Chaplain Bruce Peplar, as Sioux steams toward Esquimalt Harbor. If the crew held a popularity contest, it's likely the "Old Man" and the "Bish" would finish in a dead heat. Chaplain Peplar, who tempers spiritual guidance with a sense of humor, wears a tin halo presented by the wardroom. (Times photo.)

PROWLING THIEVES SNEAK PARKED CAR GEAR AND GAS

Prowlers Saturday night stole lights, gasoline and auto rugs from four parked vehicles.

They siphoned the gas from cars owned by George Davis, 1274 Denman, and H. McDougall, 383 Kerr, both parked on Denman. They also took auto rugs, worth $15, from each.

Tom Harris, 468 Garbally, told police a spotlight was stolen off his father's car while parked in the vicinity of the Royal Theatre.

Louis Hafer, Brentwood, said a back-up light was stolen off his car parked in the same area. The lights are valued at $37.

Man Hurt, Child Escapes In Week-End Car Mishaps

Holiday Collisions Cause Severe Damage But Injury List Light, Police Report

A man knocked down by a car early Sunday morning and rushed to hospital, later was arrested there on a charge of being drunk in a public place.

Armas Mikkonen, 35, of 540 Bay or 818 Fort, was struck at 3:10 while crossing Pandora at Blanshard, allegedly against a red light. Driver of the car was F. G. L. Evans, 2817 Shakespear.

Mikkonen sustained facial cuts and shock. Police took him to Jubilee Hospital.

At 5:25 the same morning hospital attendants telephoned the police station—that Mikkonen had been released but was causing a disturbance in the hospital.

Constables Jack Perry and H. Hollmer arrested the man on a drunk charge. He was released later on $10 bail which was exonerated in court today.

SEVERE DAMAGE

Damage was heavy to cars driven by W. C. Montgomery, 457 Constance, and Robert Morgan, Nanaimo, in a Sunday afternoon crash at Fairfield and Foul Bay, police said.

Officers typed damage as medium when cars in charge of William F. Gaskill, 870 Esquimalt, and Ellis W. Hillier, 815 Craigflower, met in collision. This occurred at 12:30 this morning at Montreal and Kingston.

A car driven by Ronald B. Hooper, 925 Hillside, collided with a parked car at Douglas and Frances at 2:50 Sunday afternoon.

Rose Kirchner, 7, of 1146 Caledonia, was hurt Sunday when she ran from the sidewalk into the side of a car driven by Ernest Neville, 1110 Vista, south on Cook at Caledonia. Neville told police about the accident. They checked at the girl's home and found she was not injured.

Cars driven by Lionel L. Staples, 1044 Inverness, and James Weir, 504 Cicelia, were in collision at Hillside and Bridge late Saturday night. Police said damage was medium.

WRONG TWICE OVER

Courts Uphold Chinese In Pig Farm Pact Suit

John L. Fisher of Happy Valley, who is alleged to have told a Chinese pig dealer that a Chinese could never win a court case here, has been proved wrong twice.

First, Mr. Justice A. D. Macfarlane proved him wrong in Supreme Court last November by awarding Lee Chow, 334 Cormorant, a sum of $2,000 in his suit against Fisher over breach of an agreement in a pig farming business.

Now, the Court of Appeal sitting in Vancouver has unanimously dismissed Fisher's appeal against the judgment.

R. D. Harvey, Q.C., counsel for Chow, reviewed to the Appeal Court the trial evidence of Chow's daughter, Mary Lee, with regard to Fisher's remarks.

Mary Lee, in the lower court, had testified that Fisher had ignored their threats of suit and told them a Chinese could never win a case.

She also testified that Fisher told them that he had plenty of influential white friends.

It was also learned that several other executive members are expected to resign at the forthcoming meeting.

With regard to the disagreement, P. L. Green, vice-president, is quoted as saying: "There is a group in the organization which has been a nuisance to us for years." He indicated that it was this group which had caused a split in the organization.

BOOM BAN URGED

Storage of logs at the Sidney Island Lagoon and Sidney Spit areas at any season will have a serious, detrimental effect on the large number of waterfowl feeding and sheltering there, in the opinion of C. J. Guiguet, Provincial Museum biologist.

His comment was made in regard to an application of B.C. Forest Products for a lease on 40 acres within the lagoon for log storage, and the protest launched by G. F. "Pat" Dunn, well-known Victoria hunter.

Blank brand live entirely on the sea, and confine their feeding almost 100 per cent to eel grass, Guiguet said. It is available to the birds at only a few points, and Sidney Island and the lagoon is the major point of concentration on the southeast side of the island.

Storage of logs would reduce or completely eliminate its availability to the geese by mechanical obstruction, he said. Further, if the logs go "dry" at low tide the grass would be killed by bark settling, gouging or other injury.

The presence of such logs at any time of the year will have serious, detrimental effects on waterfowl, even though the logs may be removed when the waterfowl are present, the biologist said.

Expert Says Log Storage Menaces Birds

Terence P. O'Grady, assistant city solicitor, reiterated the city's objection to the P.U.C. jurisdiction over the B.C.E. application under the stated clause in the Public Utilities Act.

A B. Robertson, spokesman for the company, stated need for the proposed increase in fares was to meet increased costs including a 12½ per cent wage boost granted the Street Railway-men's Union, effective March 1.

Higher fares are also sought to try to increase the net return from transit operations, he said.

Small Loggers Reassured On Celgar Plans

Nothing To Fear From Project At Castlegar

Eighteen small logging operators from the Revelstoke area today were given assurance by Lands and Forests Minister E. T. Kenney they have nothing to fear from the giant Celgar Development Company Ltd. proposed project at Castlegar.

The company has applied for a forest management license covering 3,000,000 acres and intends to manufacture newsprint, hardboard, plywood and pulp. About $165,000,000 would be invested.

The conference with the minister and Dr. C. D. Orchard, deputy forests minister, and F. S. McKinnon, assistant deputy, was arranged by Celgar officials. The operators were brought here as guests of the big firm.

Kenney told the meeting the government has made no decision yet on the Celgar application. He said he has received a petition signed by 472 persons who approve of the development. There have been some protestants too, he added.

In answer to a question from Gordon Root, a Celgar official, the minister said the areas reserved for small operators in the license are not final. His department is still prepared to adjust the areas, he stated.

"If it is shown there is not sufficient areas in there for the small operators, we are prepared to make changes," Kenney said.

Bus Men Expect Losses

Fare Boost Would Cut Travel, Claim

B.C. Electric Co. expects a six per cent drop in number of bus riders in Greater Victoria if granted a requested 20 per cent boost in transit fares.

Public Utilities Commission learned of the anticipated decline at the opening of its public hearing into the B.C.E. application for increased fares at Empress Hotel today.

"That is based on a formula tested both in Canadian and U.S. cities that for every 10 per cent increase in fares there will be a 3 per cent decline in number of riders," Dr. H. L. Purdy, director of research and administration for the company said.

A handful of representatives from various organizations attended with representatives for Victoria and the surrounding municipalities.

In outlining procedure at the outset, Percy George, P.U.C. chairman, said briefs could be presented by organizations which were "definitely established and recognized public bodies."

A clash of opinion occurred when W. A. Scott was refused permission to read a brief "on behalf of the public."

George said elected persons from all municipalities were there representing the people. If Scott were allowed to read the brief he had submitted in writing then 100,000 people in the area would have the right to speak.

F. J. Smith, 907 Falmouth, wanted to speak for pensioners. George said Smith could not speak unless he did so with authority.

"Then this is not a public meeting," argued Smith.

When George said "cognizance" would be taken of briefs submitted in writing but not heard at the hearing, City Solicitor Arthur Patton said it would be unfair both to the company and municipalities if they were not given a chance to question such communications.

Terence P. O'Grady, assistant city solicitor, reiterated the city's objection to the P.U.C. jurisdiction over the B.C.E. application under the stated clause in the Public Utilities Act.

HIGHER COSTS

A B. Robertson, spokesman for the company, stated need for the proposed increase in fares was to meet increased costs including a 12½ per cent wage boost granted the Street Railway-men's Union, effective March 1.

Higher fares are also sought to try to increase the net return from transit operations, he said.

S.P.C.A. Crisis Follows President's Resignation

An emergency meeting of the S.P.C.A. has been called for Friday, March 21, following the resignation last week of its president Stewart Evans. It was announced today.

Evans, a Victoria business man, resigned from office following a disagreement with some members of the executive over policy matters, it was learned. Evans could not be reached for confirmation of the report.

The president's resignation came as a shock to many members seeking to operate the organization on sound and efficient business lines.

The disagreement between the president and executive members was not over vivisection, subject of heated debate at the recent S.P.C.A. annual meeting, it is understood.

It was also learned that several other executive members are expected to resign at the forthcoming meeting.

With regard to the disagreement, P. L. Green, vice-president, is quoted as saying: "There is a group in the organization which has been a nuisance to us for years." He indicated that it was this group which had caused a split in the organization.

The emergency meeting is expected to settle once and for all the organization's administration policy which has been a source of dissension for some time.

Evans at the annual meeting took over the presidency on the understanding that the executive would support his administrative policy and that there should be no interference from individual members in the business matters of the organization.

SHOPPING GUIDE

There Are More Ways Than One To Save Your Pennies

By PENNY SAVER

Let's see, what'll it be today? How about plastic utility and food bags. They are the "rave" with all those who have tried them. In fact I shouldn't just say "tried" them. Anyone who has discovered them is using them constantly.

You get 11, all different sizes, for 98 pennies—not even a whole dollar. That's really something in this day and age.

Honestly, I'm a tellin' you, by spending those few pennies you will save untold amounts of future pennies by preserving your food.

And you know, you can never tell when they will save the day when something out of the ordinary comes along.

A week or so ago, a friend of mine received a gorgeous lei of orchids from her grandparents, who had just returned from Hawaii. It was the middle of the week and she had nowhere that she could wear the lei.

"If only it would stay fresh until the week-end so I could wear it to the dance," she said to me.

I suggested she put it in the refrigerator, but her mother added that it would be even better to slip it in a plastic bag before she did so.

When she appeared at the dance on the week-end you would have thought the orchids had just been picked and made into the lei. It was beautiful.

Now there won't be many of us who will be lucky enough to put these bags to that kind of use, but besides keeping food and spring flowers fresh we can also protect clothes and household items in them.

You are assured of protection against moths, dust or tarnish when you slip an article into the various sized bags. Not only that, you can store things away neatly and compactly.

They will pay for themselves in a few weeks by reducing spoilage and damage.

Do you shudder when you think of cleaning leafy vegetables? I know I always did until I treated myself to a spray that fits onto the tap.

Boy! They're quite something. It will stretch to fit any commonly used faucet by simply moistening with soap and pushing with a kneading motion.

That done, you turn on the tap, flip a little lever and you can have a stream of water or a spray.

You'd be amazed how it helps in cleaning vegetables and with washing the dishes. When you turn the spray on and dump a few soap flakes in the sink you have suds immediately.

Only 55 pennies for the added convenience in your kitchen. It will save you time and lessen jangled nerves when trying to clean vegetables.

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Wives Want Recognition Of Their Worth To Hubby

Saturday I told you about a few of the characteristics men like and dislike in women. Today let us consider the little woman's angle.

I wonder if you can guess what number one is on the list of what she likes? She wrote it to me in many different ways but it all added up to the fact that she does not want to be taken for granted. She doesn't want a man to work himself to death and never tell her why he does it although she knows why. She wants to feel that he is aware of her.

She wants you to tell her you love her, to notice it when she looks especially pretty. It is heavy stuff for the little lady when you are thoughtful of her comfort and happiness in small ways.

She wants you as a companion as well as a partner. She wants you to talk with her. She wants to feel important to you, not just at crucial times, but all of the time.

She also wants you to understand about the big part she is playing in your success. Hers may not be so spectacular but it is often harder. One woman writes: "Women know that men work hard at their jobs all day long but women do, too. A woman likes to think of herself as manager of the home, as being cook, cleaning woman, budget expert, child-care specialist and psychologist all in one, and she likes to have her husband realize this."

If a man does become more aware of his wife in day after day life it adds zest and romance to his life as well as hers and she will probably spoil him terribly. Would you have thought that good grooming was right up at the top of the list of what women like in men? It was. There were some bitter letters along this line.

Another thought for the man of the house: "Women like a man with tact and friendliness in any group whether it is his choice of friends or his wife's."

Painful Cramps of "Monthly Periods" halted or strikingly relieved

in 3 out of 4 cases in test by doctors!

Women and girls who suffer from those functionally-caused cramps, backaches and headaches of menstruation—who feel upset and irritable on certain "particular days"—may often be suffering quite unnecessarily!

Such is the conclusion from tests by doctors in which Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound gave complete or striking relief from such distress in 3 out of 4 of the cases tested!

Modern in action! Test! Medical evidence shows Lydia E. Pinkham's Compound is thoroughly modern in action.

It strikes directly at the cause of menstrual pain! The effectiveness of Lydia Pinkham's needs no proof to the millions of women and girls whom it has benefited. But how about you? Do you know what it may do for you? Take Lydia Pinkham's Compound, or new, improved Tablets (with added iron). Both are grand, too, for those "hot flashes" and nervous feelings of "change of life" which often cause menstrual pain! Don't suffer needlessly when relief may be so near!

TODAY'S RECIPE

PLANKED FISH

Four to 5 pounds white fish, trout or any fish suitable for stuffing and baking; salt and pepper; ¼ cup butter or margarine, melted; 4 slices bacon, chopped; 2 tablespoons onion, minced; ¼ cup celery, chopped fine; 2 tablespoons green pepper, chopped; 2 tablespoons parsley, chopped; ½ cup bread crumbs, 2 cups dry or medium dry Canadian white table wine.

Have fish cleaned without removing head and tail. Wash and dry inside and out. Rub inside and outside with salt and pepper and brush with 2 tablespoons melted butter or margarine. Broil the bacon in a skillet and when it begins to melt, add the onion, celery, green pepper and parsley. Add remaining 2 tablespoons butter or margarine and the bread crumbs. Place filling in the fish and close with needle and stout thread. Bake on an oiled plank at temperature about 400 degrees Fahrenheit. Allow about 10 minutes per pound. Baste at intervals with wine. Baste with heated wine immediately before serving. (Serves eight to 10.)

Perfect Tuna Casserole

If ever a dish deserved the compliment, "How Perfect," this tuna combination is it. One try and you'll see. It's so perfectly easy to make, perfectly grand to eat.

The luscious flavor team of condensed cream of mushroom soup and tuna give the dish its high-powered come-on for eaters. And if you want a Lenten dish, just use cream of celery soup instead of mushroom. Results are equally pleasing.

Right on your kitchen shelf, you can keep the makings for this one. A can each of mushroom soup, tuna, and green peas—plus a bag of potato chips. It turns suppers into something special, is a perfect choice for luncheon parties. The cost will cheer you too.

PERFECT TUNA CASSEROLE

One can (1½ cups) condensed cream of mushroom soup, ½ cup milk, 1 T. onion can (1 cup) tuna, drained and coarsely flaked, 1½ cups crushed potato chips, 1 cup cooked green peas, drained.

Empty soup into a small casserole; add milk and mix thoroughly. Add tuna, 1 cup potato chips and peas to soup; stir well. Sprinkle top with remaining ½ cup potato chips. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) for 20 minutes. Makes 4 servings. Garnish with whole potato chips around edge if desired. Note: For Lent, use condensed cream of celery soup instead of mushroom soup.

Young Musician In Featured Work

Miss Sheila Bates, young Victoria musician, performed recently in a student recital at Mills College, Oakland, Calif. A pupil of Egon Petrie, pianist-in-residence at Mills, Sheila has also trained under composer Harry Partch during the past college year. She will play his diamond marimba in the forthcoming production of W. B. Yeats version of King Oedipus.

The production will be a world premiere of a new dramatic art from incorporating Partch's musical score based on a 43-tone scale. The orchestral instruments are each unique, designed by Partch himself to perform his new music. Sheila is the daughter of Mrs. Gertrude O. Bates, 1549 Despard Avenue, Victoria.

Blue Monday Is Not As Bad As Believed

LONDON, March 10 (CP).—Research shows that well-known "Monday-morning feeling" may not be as unpleasant as the expression indicates.

In fact, there are people who genuinely like Mondays. Samplings of opinion taken by canvassers show that such characters include persons really interested in their job or working on their own. Others who welcome Monday are those who see too much of the family at week-ends and have little real rest.

For most women, however, Monday is still a bug-bear. It means wash-day, cold food, post-week-end irritability and the prospect of a full week of the same old chores.

OF PERSONAL INTEREST

Twins Honored At Luncheon

Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Anderson, Irma Street, entertained yesterday at a luncheon in honor of their twin daughters, Betty and Joan, April brides-elect, who were also celebrating their birthdays. The table was decorated with spring flowers and pink candles and centred with a birthday cake in pink and white, topped with lighted candles. Guests numbered 12.

Victorians At Laguna Beach

Mr. and Mrs. Harris Turner, Arundel Drive, and Mr. and Mrs. J. O. MacCallum, Uplands Road, who are holidaying at Laguna Beach, Calif., were guests recently at a "Canadian Visitors' Day," when they were given a backstage view of the mechanics of the Pageant of the Masters, which is a feature attraction at the annual Festival of the Arts. They also visited the Laguna Beach Art Gallery and were later guests at tea.

Headmistresses Honored

Miss D. W. Atkins, headmistress of Norfolk House School, and Miss H. M. Pearce, headmistress of St. Margaret's School, were hostesses at a dinner party in the Oak Bay Beach Hotel Saturday evening to honor Miss A. Bryan, headmistress of Crofton House School, and Mrs. Cotsworth Clark, headmistress of York House School, both of Vancouver.

Miss Bryan and Mrs. Clark accompanied members of school basketball teams to this city where they competed in the inter-private school competition.

On Tour In British Isles

Miss Flora Hamilton Burns, who left Victoria last summer on an extended trip that took her to eastern Canada and then the States before she sailed for England, is now in London, which she is making a central point from where to tour the British Isles and the continent. Miss Burns is a granddaughter of the late Hon. W. J. MacDonald, one of the founders of Victoria, who was called to the Senate when British Columbia entered Confederation. He was a well-known Canadian statesman for 45 years. While in Victoria Miss Burns acted as honorary secretary of the Victoria Branch of the Overseas League.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Gould, who were in the city for the wedding of Mrs. Gould's son, William D. S. Murray, to Ailsa Isabel Campbell, Saturday evening, left today for their home in Council, Ida.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Kaye who are leaving Vancouver the end of this month to make their future home at Shawinigan Lake, are being much fêted in the mainland city, prior to their departure.

Members of Christ Church Parish Guild enjoyed a pleasant afternoon recently, when Mrs. R. H. Felton entertained at her home. Mrs. Felton was assisted by Miss K. Jaffray in receiving the guests, and Mrs. George Calvert and Mrs. George Miles poured tea. Others assisting were Mesdames S. White, J. F. K. English, F. A. Wenzel, M. H. French, D. H. Weaver, Miss B. Morley and Miss P. Tate.

Ailsa Campbell Married At Double-Ring Ceremony On Saturday Evening

Rev. J. L. W. McLean officiated at the double-ring ceremony in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church Saturday evening, which united Ailsa Isabel Campbell and William D. S. Murray in marriage.

The bride is the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Campbell, Dominion Road, and the groom is the only son of Mrs. J. H. Gould, Council, Ida, and the late Mr. C. H. Murray.

Spring flowers in standard baskets decorated the church. C. C. Warren accompanied Miss Kathleen Paulin with organ music when she sang "Because" during signing of the register.

The bridal couple were piped out of the church by Pipe Major Andy Pollock of the Canadian Scottish.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white satin graced with lace insets which extended from the shoulder line to the hem of the full skirt which was en train.

The high neck of the gown was touched with a lace collar and buttoned down the front to the waist. Her floor-length veil flowed from a satin cap framed with seed pearls. She carried a cascade bouquet of red roses and heather.

Mrs. L. J. Cyr, sister of the bride, came from Whitehorse to be matron of honor. She chose a gown fashioned with lace bodice and full nylon skirt over taffeta. Her cascade bouquet was varying shades of pink carnations.

Bridesmaids, Miss Jean Stewart and Miss Wilma Dyson, were gowned in blue and pink taffeta, respectively. They both carried bouquets of pink carnations and lilies. All attendants had head-dresses of spring flowers and mits to match their gowns.

James Daddon was best man, and ushers were Mervin Pears and Leo Benoit.

Spring blooms decorated the lower lounge of the Empress Hotel for the reception and the bride's table was centred with a three-tier cake, which the bride cut with Pipe Major Pollock's sword. The handle was decorated with Campbell and Murray tartans. James Smith proposed the toast.

Upon leaving for her honeymoon in the United States the bride wore a navy blue nail head faille tailleur complemented with a blue straw hat touched with spring flowers. She topped her ensemble with a skipper-blue coat with blue and white accessories and a corsage of pink roses.

Victoria's Birthday Will Be Marked

Plans for a Victoria birthday tea at the home of Mrs. R. L. Brain, 930 Melchiosin Street, next Friday, was made at a meeting of Sir James and Lady Douglas Chapter, I.O.D.E. Miss Lottie Bowron will be guest speaker at the tea.

Presiding at the meeting was Mrs. Bertha Parsons, the regent, and plans were made for a bingo tea on March 26 at headquarters from 2 until 5.

Mrs. W. F. Bullen was named honorary regent and Mrs. Swire Mitchell, honorary vice-regent. Conveners are Mrs. D. F. C. MacArthur, services for home and abroad; Mrs. J. B. Morrison, membership; Mrs. A. E. S. Burpas, films, and Mrs. F. Dods-worth, press and publicity.

Receives Award

Mr. and Mrs. H. M. G. Bullock, 2542 Bowker Avenue, have just received word that their grandson, Ronald Havard, Vancouver, has received a scholarship from the Boys' Clubs of Canada, national headquarters, for his voluntary work with boys' clubs in Vancouver. Mr. Havard has left for Indiana University to study boys' work. Prior to his departure he was presented with many gifts by the boys with whom he had worked.

C.N.I.B. Auxiliary To Serve Tea At Centre Opening

At the request of Capt. M. C. Robinson, director of the Canadian National Institute for the Blind, the Women's Auxiliary to the local branch, will take charge of tea arrangements and decorations for the official opening of the new service centre on April 3.

Plans were made at a meeting of the auxiliary last week. Mrs. Newcomen was named convener, assisted by Mrs. R. B. Horton and Mrs. J. Henderson. Mrs. R. H. B. Ker is in charge of decorations.

Mrs. H. Weldon presided and the auxiliary voted to give a donation to the Lady Alexander gift fund.

Report of Miss Dorothy Stark, field secretary of the C.N.I.B. in Victoria was read by her assistant, Miss E. Deacon, and showed 67 case interviews given and 37 case consultations. Two young men came to the city from the Vancouver office to finish training before accepting positions with the C.N.I.B. at Edmonton and Calgary respectively.

Annual meeting of the auxiliary will be held on April 10, in the new C.N.I.B. Service Centre, where all future meetings will also be held.

Postponed Tea, April 23

It has been decided by the Women's Auxiliary to Canadian Scottish Regiment (Princess Mary's) to hold the silver membership tea, originally planned for mid-February and canceled because of the King's death, on Wednesday, April 23. The affair will be held at the home of Mrs. Gordon A. Cameron, 2021 Runnymede Avenue, and final plans will be made at the next auxiliary meeting on April 2.

WINDOW-SMASHER SOUGHT FOOD BUT SWALLOWED WAX RICE-BALL

TOKYO, March 10 (AP).—The shabbily-dressed old Japanese looked hungrily at the Tokyo restaurant window. He picked up a brick from the snowy sidewalk and shattered the glass. He grabbed a dish of sushi—rice balls and sliced raw fish—and took to his heels.

Seconds before police caught him he popped a rice ball into his mouth and swallowed it.

It was made of wax.

The old man groaned and let police lead him to jail—and some real food.

WHEN DID THE SUN 'SPIN'?

Fatima 'Miracle' Dates May Spark Controversy

ROME, March 10 (AP).—The shrine of Fatima's official newspaper says photographs published as showing the miracle of the "Revolving Sun" at Fatima, Portugal, in 1917 actually were taken several years later, "during an atmospheric effect at sunset."

The semi-official Vatican newspaper L'Osservatore Romano published two such pictures last Nov. 17. It described them as of "rigorously authentic origin." After the Vatican publication, the pictures were distributed throughout the world.

Asked a week ago about the repudiation in the Jan. 13, 1952, edition of "The Voice of Fatima," official English-language journal of the "Sanctuary and Crusaders of Fatima," L'Osservatore has not yet made reply.

In Portugal, "The Voice of Fatima" said:

"In the interests of accuracy we would like to state that certain photographs recently reproduced in newspapers abroad alleged to be authentic pictures of the solar prodigy of 1917 were not in fact taken on that date but several years later (May 13, 1921, near Torres Novas) during an atmospheric effect at sunset."

L'Osservatore published the photographs on its first page after Federico Cardinal Tedeschini declared at Fatima last Oct. 13 that the Pope had seen a repetition of the miracle of the sun during holy year. Oct. 13 was the 34th anniversary of "The Miracle of Fatima."

L'Osservatore, in its caption under the films, said they showed both the black mark in the sun, produced by its rapid rotation, and the position of the sun itself, almost on the horizon.

This position was declared as "entirely impossible in the hour in which the photographs were taken—that is, precisely 12.30."

The "Miracle of the Sun," which three shepherd children had originally reported seeing at Cova di Iria, site of the shrine which later came into being, was said by thousands to have been repeated in Fatima on Oct. 13, 1917. The children said they also saw visions of the Virgin Mary imploring Christians to strive for the salvation of Russia.

In Lisbon, Dr. Joao de Mendonca said he turned over copies of photos taken in 1922 at a repetition of the "Miracle of the Sun" to Cardinal Tedeschini's secretary.

Mileage Figures For City's Wind

Everyone knows Victoria is a windy spot, but the weatherman knows exactly how windy.

A compilation of February records at the city weather office recorded to be 8,019.

Average for February in Victoria is 7,200, and the all-time record was made in 1949, when the total reached 10,208 miles.

Pilot Survives Crash Of Plane Into Lake

TORONTO, March 10 (CP).—A Tiger Moth biplane stalled Sunday while making a steep climbing turn and spun into Lake Ontario off the western end of the island airport on Centre Island. The pilot, John Zimmerman, 26, of Toronto, was pulled from the wreckage and taken to hospital where he was reported to have suffered hand, back and leg injuries.

50,000 Visit U.B.C. Campus

VANCOUVER, March 8.—First Open House Day in three years drew more than 50,000 spectators to grounds of the University of British Columbia Saturday, including many Victorians.

"We take great pride in showing our campus to the public," said Ivan Felpham, in charge of the Open House committee, who opened the one-day exhibition.

"We hope this display of physical facilities will result in a better understanding of the university's place in B.C. society."

The $1,000,000 memorial gymnasium, new physics building and new biochemistry building were open to the public for the first time.

A special edition of 8,500 copies of the university newspaper "Ubysses" was distributed.

Unorthodox Doctor To Sue For Libel

MEDFORD, Mass., March 10 (AP).—Dr. Robert E. Lincoln said Sunday night he will file a libel suit against "people responsible for the issuance of a report" by the Massachusetts Medical Society which requested his resignation.

At the same time, the doctor, whose treatment of cancer, tuberculosis and other "viral" diseases has been widely publicized, charged that "surgeons are interested in slowing up medical treatment of cancer because it would hurt them in the pocket-book."

Dr. Lincoln emphasized there is "no such thing as a cancer cure."

He referred to his treatment as an "apparent cure" and said it brought marked results in other diseases such as sinus, asthma, arthritis, colitis and Hodgkin's disease. The latter, he explained, is a malignancy of the lymph glands.

A committee of the society, after an eight-month investigation, had reported it could find no real benefit to patients from Dr. Lincoln's treatment.

Dr. Lincoln asserted that vomiting, constipation and other symptoms of "malignancy" disappeared in from four to 14 days after he administered nasal and oral doses of "beta bacteriophage."

He explained that both alpha and beta bacteriophage, used in his treatment of cancer, were particular strains of a type of germ.

The doctor said he would like to hear one scientific answer as to why this "beta bacteriophage" is not being used in hospitals in the treatment of cancer.

Dr. Lincoln reiterated that he would not resign from the medical society.

Bouck Takes Shuttle Title

CALGARY, March 10 (CP)—Edmonton shuttle stars walked off with the lion's share of the awards as the annual Alberta provincial badminton championships wound up at the Gleason Club here Saturday.

Sensation of the tournament was Johnny Bouck, youthful Calgary shuttle artist who is presently attending the University of British Columbia and playing out of Vancouver. Bouck caught fire in the men's singles final and routed defending champion Alf Ingall of Edmonton in straight games, 15-7, 15-9.

Ingall previously had downed Dave McTaggart, present B.C. champion and Bouck took the measure of Stu Barnard, last year's runner-up.

Louis Reid copped the ladies' singles title.

CANADIAN SECOND

PAUL SMITHS, N.Y., March 10 (CP)—Silas Dunklee of Sun Valley, Idaho, today won the United States cross-country skiing championship by beating out Canadian champion Claude Richer of Ottawa, a student at St. Lawrence University, by 34 seconds. Dunklee's time over a 11.3-mile course was 1:30.03 to 1:30.37 for Richer.

HAYSHAM, Eng. (CP)—Phyllis Fisher found a seagull with a broken wing and nursed it back to health. She has become so attached to the bird that she may have to take up angling—the gull will eat nothing but fish.

LONDON (CP)—The National Canine Defense League now is providing 7,000 persons with a two-month correspondence course on "how to train a dog."

Fieldcrest
Bedspreads

Practical, washable bedspreads woven of good quality cotton in colourful striped and novelty designs. Priced exceptionally low because they're classed as seconds... the flaws are slight and should not affect the wearing qualities. In a size suitable for standard or continental beds. Buy one for making into drapes, too! Size 88x105 inches.

Special, each

Esmond Throws
